Cancer Campaign To Be Made Tonight

TONIGHT IS Cancer Night in Marion.

Some time between 6 and 8 o'clock this evening, one of the more than 300 volunteer house-to-house solicitors will call at each home in Marion to seek a contribution toward the $9,000 goal for this county's participation in the Cancer Crusade.

Also, the workers will distribute educational literature designed to help people protect themselves from cancer.

"We need the help of every person in Marion County to make a success of the campaign,' Jackson H. Taft, drive chairman, said. "If you are obligated to be away from your home this evening, please do your fair share by dropping your contribution into the Cancer Coin Containers which have been distributed among business places throughout the county."

THE VOLUNTEER workers in the precincts will forward their collections to ward leaders, who will in turn take the funds to the Fahey Banking Co. Friday morning for counting. Francis B. Huber is treasurer of the Marion County Unit of the American Cancer Society, which is conducting a nationwide Cancer Crusade this month.

Marion city's part in the campaign was set up as a one-evening house-to-house canvass for the convenience of both donors and drive workers. In the townships and rural communities, workers are taking a longer period because of travel distances.

CANCER STRIKES one in five. These national figures mean that approximately 9,000 Marion County residents will have some type of cancer problem. Early detection is the best counter measure, because medical authorities say one-third of the annual cancer deaths are needless and preventable through early detection and early treatment.

HALF OF THE money you give to the Marion County campaign will remain locally for maintenance of the free Cancer Clinic at Marion City Hospital. You can get a free examination at the clinic by scheduling an appointment. The local share also helps pay for an educational program carried on by the Marion County Unit. The remainder of the funds are used on a national basis for research and training of specialists to seek newer and better ways to treat the disease.

President Discusses His Powers

Defends "Inherent" Emergency Rights At Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today he once forced Premier Stalin to move out of Iran by sending him an ultimatum.

The President also told a news conference that there was a time when Yugoslavia decided to take Trieste, but that he ordered the Mediterranean fleet into that area and there was no march on Trieste.

Truman spoke of these incidents in discussing his powers generally and specifically his seizure of the steel industry.

He said the President has very great inherent powers to meet emergencies developing that require action.

Coming down to more recent events, the President said there has been what he called a lot of hooey about seizure of the press and radio as a result of his last news conference.

On last Thursday, Truman was asked this question:

"Mr. President, if you can seize the steel mills under your inherent powers, can you, in your opinion, also seize the newspapers or/and the radio stations?"

Best Interests

The President replied that under similar circumstances, the President of the United States has to act for whatever is for the best of the country. That's the answer to your question, he added.

In reverting to the matter today, Truman said the thought of seizing the press and radio never occurred to him.

He went on to say he seized the steel industry because this country is in the midst of the greatest emergency it has ever had.

It was then he told his news conference:

That in 1945 he had to send an ultimatum to the head of the Soviet Union to get out of Persia (Iran).

They got out, the President said of the Russians, because we were in a position then to meet the situation in that area.

Later, the President went on, Yugoslavia decided to take Trieste. He said he thought that was 1946.

He said he not only ordered the Mediterranean fleet into that area, but told Gen. Eisenhower to send three divisions to northern Italy.

"No March"

Setting his jaw firmly, Truman commented there was no march on Trieste.

The President was asked whether he sent a personal message to Stalin delivering an ultimatum

Famed Inventor Talks To Scouters

'Boss' Kettering Says Freedom Gives Strength

America is strong because of its freedom, and programs like that of the Boy Scouts which foster liberty are "exactly the things that will keep it that way," a world famous inventor declared here Wednesday night in a speech to Scouters from the Marion area.

Charles F. Kettering of Dayton and Detroit, whose invention of the self-starter for automobiles started him on the road to fame 40 years ago, was the speaker. Now vice president in charge of research for one of the world's largest corporations, the General Motors Corp., he addressed some 300 Scout leaders from Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot Counties who gathered at the Masonic Temple for the annual fellowship dinner of the Harding Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

His speech was the highlight of the program, which also saw the presentation of the Silver Beaver award to Roy P. Shipton of Marion in recognition of his outstanding service to Scouting. The award, highest given to a Scouter by the Harding Area Council, was made by Dr. A. J. Wagner of Marion, last year's winner. Shipton, who lives at 145 Charles St., is now serving as council treasurer. He has long been active in the Scout program and in other civic affairs.

Why We Have So Much

In illustrating the source of America's strength, Kettering posed a question once put to him, "Why, in this land of ours which has six per cent of the world's land area and seven per cent of its population, why do we have such a terrifically disproportionate amount of things—automo-

Takes Savings Time To Court In Mansfield

MANSFIELD (AP)—Daylight Savings Time was hauled into court here Wednesday.

Steel Owners Ask Courts For Injunction

Government Raises Steel Prices About $3 More Per Ton

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Private owners of the steel industry went back to the federal courts today seeking an order to force government surrender of their mills.

The action came on the heels of an order by Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam raising steel prices about $3 a ton—only a fourth of what the industry claimed it needs to pay for government-suggested pay boosts.

Lawyers for leading steel firms pressed for a preliminary injunction from Judge David A. Pine to end the government operation ordered by President Truman 16 days ago.

Justice Department attorneys were prepared to oppose the plea. They had successfully staved off earlier industry efforts in the courts.

The industry felt its case was strengthened, however, by the fact that the government had since plainly stated it will override industry objections and impose a pay boost for Philip Murray's 650,000 CIO Steelworkers Union members.

Doesn't Affect City Governments

Ohio Law Forbids County To Adopt Savings Time

No matter what city council decides to do with Daylight Savings Time in 1952, the county is going to remain on Eastern Standard Time.

County Prosecutor Ralph E. Carhart said today the county government is forbidden to go on fast time by the General Code of Ohio. Section 5979 of the Code states that no switch in time in the county can be made, he said. "It definitely means no change in county time," he said. The law does not affect municipal governments.

Fate Not Determined

The fate of daylight time in the city of Marion still has not been determined. City council will discuss the controversial issue again in a regular session Monday night.

People of the city will get a chance to vote in November on whether they want Daylight Savings Time in 1953. At a special meeting last Monday night council passed a motion directing the city solicitor to draw up legislation to put the question on the November ballot.

Most areas of the nation going on daylight time will make the switch Sunday. Millions of folks in the nation will turn their clocks ahead one hour.

In the entire nation, about 65 million people live under day-

Plan Open House For Hospital Day Observance May 12

In observance of "National Hospital Day" which has been set for May 12, the personnel of Marion City Hospital have made plans for open house to be held that day.

Residents of Marion and the area are invited to visit the hospital to see how it is operated with tours of the hospital scheduled to be conducted between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 and 9 in the evening.

Visitors will see the hospital laboratory and X-ray rooms and also an operating room which will be set up preparatory for an operation.

Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, hospital administrator, is arranging the open house activities.

Eisenhower Cutting Into Taft's Lead

Trails by Only 19 Delegates; Senator Remains Confident

By The Associated Press

With Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's estimated 220 delegates pressing behind his own 239, Sen. Robert Taft said today he believes he can win the majority of the 60 GOP delegates at stake in the week ahead.

Referring to presidential preference primaries and conventions which will select delegates in Colorado, Utah, Delaware, Arizona and Arkansas Taft said:

"We face a fight everywhere but it looks pretty good."

But Eisenhower's campaign managers were optimistic too. They predicted Wednesday, in the wake of the general's victories in New York and Pennsylvania, that he will be nominated on the first ballott at the July national convention.

Latest reports from New York, where Republicans last Tuesday chose 90 of the state's 96 delegates to the Chicago convention, indicated that 81 were for Eisenhower, nine for Taft. But Taft disputed this, claiming 17.

New York's state GOP committee will select six delegates-at-large May 7. All of these are expected to be for Eisenhower since Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is an Eisenhower man — and he's New York's Mr. Republican.

Although the political spotlight was centered on the neck-and-neck race between Taft and Eisenhower, there were rumblings in the Democratic camp which gave promise of stealing some of the headlines:

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota is said to be more receptive to suggestions from "numerous" friends that he seek the presidential nomination. These friends said privately Humphrey has not made up his mind, but recently has declined to say he would reject the nomination — as he had earlier.

Declines To Quit

And W. Averell Harriman, latest to announce for the Democratic nomination, touched off the possibility the foreign aid program may be drawn into politics by refusing to give up his post as mutual security director.

Kefauver And Stassen Begin Ohio Drives

(Details of Kefauver's Marion visit are on page 31).

AKRON (AP) — Two presidential hopefuls—Republican Harold E. Stassen and Democrat Estes Kefauver—come to Ohio today to campaign for presidential nominating convention delegates.

Stassen, who has made a weak showing in other states so far in his third try for the presidency, flied into Akron shortly before noon. He will be in Ohio every day from now through May 5, eve of the primary in which he is seeking 47 of the state's 56 GOP delegates

Kefauver, Tennessee senator, brings into Ohio an impressive showing in other primaries. He is to remain in the state through Saturday, bucking the regular Ohio Democratic organization for 33 of 54 convention delegates.

First engagement for Kefauver is a Belmont County Women's Democratic Club luncheon at Bridgeport. Tonight he is to address the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner of the 18th congressional district in Steubenville. His schedule tomorrow takes him to New Philadelphia, Wooster, Ashland, Sandusky, Lorain, Elyria and Norwalk.

Saturday he plans stops in Fremont, Fostoria, Tiffin, Upper Sandusky, Marion, Bucyrus, Gal-

Army Loses a Flood Battle

Air Force Field Under Water As Dikes Break

By LARRY HALL

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Army lost a heart-breaking battle against the swirling Missouri River at Sherman Air Force Field near old Fort Leavenworth last night.

For ten days troops, aided at times by civilians, fought the river, raising the dikes ahead of the surging water. Then the river levelled off at its record crest. It looked like the worst was over.

But shortly after 8 o'clock last night the Missouri pounded a hole in a dike at the southeast corner of the field. It widened rapidly and in 48 minutes a 10½ foot wall of water had swept over the $3,500,000 field.

Only about 75 men were on the dikes at the time. All got out safely. Airplanes and other equipment had been removed days ago.

The installation is the landing field for historic Fort Leavenworth, home of the Army's command and general staff school. It is not a major air base.

Kansas City Ready

As the wild Missouri crest moved on toward Kansas City, Army engineers gave assurances Kansas City can take it this time. They said their experienced flood fighters were ready for any emergency.

The note of optimism came from Col. L. J. Lincoln as a crest of around 31 feet bore down on the Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., areas. That level—executed late today—is some ten feet less than the dikes were built to stand.

And it is far less than the devastating 36.2 crest that came roaring out of the Kaw (Kansas) River to spread destruction in the rich industrial lowlands last year.

Upstream, this 1952 flood from melting Dakota snow has been a record deluge. At Kansas City and on to the mouth near St. Louis, it won't equal the records set in the 1951 disaster, by present reckoning.

There was less water surging past Kansas City today than last July by more than 100,000 cubic

Truce Teams Study New Proposal

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Truce negotiators twice recessed secret talks today, indicating they were studying a new proposal to break the deadlock on how to exchange prisoners of war.

Before the session began Communist newsmen spread the word that a new development was in the offing. They gave no hint as to what it might be. Their remarks suggested, however, that the Reds had a new plan for ending the stalemate.

In the past, recesses have been called to study new proposals for settling disputes.

As usual there was no official announcement on what happened at the meeting. By agreement no news has been released on what happened in prisoner exchange talks for a month.

Only Light Fights Mark Korea Front

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Nine Reds were killed in the biggest fight reported today on the Korean battlefronts.

Warm sunny weather brought a burst of blossoms along the quiet front. Korea's purple friendship flower, the chingdallay, vied with the yellow forsythia.

Most troops took it easy. But some had to battle occasional light Communist patrols of probing attacks.

State Bows To Demands Of Mutineers

Governor Fears For Lives of 9 Guards Held at Knife Point

By ARTHUR E. EVERETT

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Tired, trigger-tense Southern Michigan Prison convicts agreed today to end a flaming five-day riot.

It cost one life and $2,000,000 in damage.

Their decision guaranteed the final safety of nine guards, still held as hostages by knife-wielding convict rioters in the world's largest walled prison.

One of the hostages, James Akins, 34, was released about six and a half hours after the capitulations. State police commissioner Donald S. Leonard said Akins was ill with "a case of nerves" and had collapsed inside the prison.

Akins was supported by a convict on either side as he walked few steps from the prison door to a waiting stretcher. Guards rushed the stretcher to the warden's office.

At the same time, prisoner Kenneth Moore, 26, walked out of the cell block and surrendered. Moore came out with his hands in the air. Guards outside took a long knife he was carrying and whisked him to the warden's office.

The fifth hostage release since the insurrection started left eight guards behind the doors with the rebellious convicts.

Bow To Convicts

With these hostages in mind, the state of Michigan humbly bowed to prison reform demands by the mutineers — and even threw in a steak dinner in the bargain.

Even then the last 169 desperate holdouts in the prison's isolation cell block 15 delayed final surrender. They demanded confirmation in today's newspapers of the state's agreement.

Thus their actual surrender of the grim, five-tiered cellblock with its solitary confinement holes, was not expected before Friday morning.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams gave in to the mutineers' demands, he said, "to effect the release of the hostages and the cessation of resistance."

The convicts' complaints alleged brutality, overcrowding of the vast prison, lack of proper segregation and medical care and inadequate parole procedure among other things.

A no reprisal demand was modified by Gov. Williams to a pledge of no reprisal by guards or other personnel who operate Michigan's prisons for the state department of corrections.

The governor's capitulation came after tense hours when the guards' lives hung in slender balance against the mounting rage and frenzy of the convicts barricaded in cell block 15.

Personal effects — wallets and identification papers — of two of the guards were thrown from

Weary Troopers, Guards Relax As Tension Snaps

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Just like Deputy George Bacon said it would, "tension relaxed — like puncturing a balloon" when mutinying convicts at Southern Michigan Prison agreed to end their four-day rebellion.

A mass sigh came from weary, frayed-nerved officials, troopers, guards, newsmen. Many hadn't slept for two days or more, some only in snatches since the mutiny broke with the seizing of guards as hostages by 179 toughs in disciplinary cell block No. 15 at 7:20 p.m. Sunday.

Tension had been building, building, building. The atmosphere was so charged you almost hesitated to strike a match.

"Crazy Jack" Hyatt, a twice-convicted robber, had shouted hysterically during the night that he wanted to "see Gov. Williams right now" and had repeated his oft-repeated threat to cut off a guard's head and "throw it out to you."

Hyatt, the hysterical, had at least temporarily — and guards feared permanently—replaced the calm, but publicity-loving Earl E. Ward, with whom they had been dealing and who had been running the show for the convicts.

A rumor—false, it turned out—spread like wildfire: "Ward's been killed." Then an even more electrifying but just as false one: "One of the guards has been killed."

Jumpy authorities whisked from one office to another grabbing arms or motioning "follow me"

One Will Be Selected in Citizenship Education Project

Harding High School Student Offered Chance To Attend Party Conventions

One lucky Harding High School junior will be selected this spring to attend both the Republican and Democratic national conventions in Chicago.

His expenses will be paid and he will have full access to the convention press sections, as any fully accredited reporter. The boy or girl selected will file articles on the convention for publication in The Star.

The student selected will be one of 300 from schools participating in the Citizenship Education Project of Columbus University. Harding is one of the schools. There are some half-dozen other participating schools in Ohio.

CBS To Pay Way

Cooperating with the Citizenship Education Project in the party convention venture is the Columbia Broadcasting System. CBS has agreed to pay travel and living expenses for the student reporters and to provide chaperones during the three-or four-week convention period.

Junior class students are being selected so that they might bring back their experiences to schoolmates the following year.

The unique experience of attending the July conventions will give the selected students a clear understanding of convention procedures and selection of candidates and platforms.

All students hoping to be selected—there are some two dozen at Harding—will gain knowledge of the pre-convention campaign and selection of delegates from endeavoring to meet the requirements for selection.

Watching Campaigns

They are now watching the pre-convention campaigns with keen interest and reading up on past party conventions in preparation for a testing program provided by the Citizenship Education Program. The testing program will provide the basis for selection of the Marion representative.

The Harding students preparing for the tests come from the school's citizenship education, journalism, and history classes.

After returning from the conventions, the student will participate in a series of laboratory practices during the fall semester involving the student and his classmates in a non-partisan 'get out the vote" campaign.

Military Pay Bill May Die In Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal for extra pay of $45 a month for most Korean War veterans' was nagged today in a Congressional dispute and may die there.

At the same time between 40 and 70 million dollars in extra "cost-of-living" pay this month for all 3½ million persons in the uninformed services also appeared doomed, although eventual passage of this bill appeared bright.

These forecasts were made to a reporter by some members of a Senate-House conference committee who failed Wednesday in their initial attempt to work out a compromise.

These sources said the Senate-House group is near agreement on a "cost-of-living" pay boost for the armed services that would amount to about 473 million dollars a year additional.

The Korean combat pay proposal was approved by the Senate March 31 as a rider on the a "cost-of-living" military pay boost previously approve by the House.

As passed by the Senate the combat pay would have gone to all officers and men who had been under enemy fire at least six days for each month of pay and did not receive other hazard or incentive pay.

Congressional leaders concede that the election-year appeal of a Korean combat pay proposal probably would put it across on a showdown vote.

But if House conferees hold to present views, that will not come, they said.

Grasping the Nettle

THOSE of us who think Sen. Taft has first call on the Republican presidential nomination now are expected to grasp the nettle of his failure to upset the bandwagon in Pennsylvania and New York.

A few days ago Gen. Eisenhower's friends were expected to grasp the nettle of his failure to upset the bandwagon in Wisconsin and Illinois. It all comes out even in the long run.

As David Lawrence pointed out a few days ago, the primary business soon will be over and hundreds of unpledged delegates who so far haven't been saying anything will go to Illinois and nominate a candidate.

The way this is done in the convention has relatively little to do with the results of primary elections. Pledged and unpledged delegates finally get down to the basic business of bestowing a nomination, regardless of primaries.

Taft upset no bandwagons in Pennsylvania and New York. He wasn't expected to. Eisenhower upset none in Illinois and Wisconsin; he wasn't expected to.

The convention is 11 weeks away.

Cause and Effect of a Blunder

IF THE uproar over steel seizure is going to accomplish anything besides a nationwide reddening of necks, attention should be given to the main source of the mischief.

This was the appointment of a board to study wage questions under presidential authority. It was the composition of a board which would be torn asunder by its own irreconcilable minorities.

It was the practice of this board in making recommendations unacceptable to the parties before it—in the railway cases, on the one hand, the steel case on the other hand. In these two divergent instances, the Wage Stabilization Board assumed arbitrary positions which made deadlocks a certainty.

Thereafter, the breaking of the deadlocks became a responsibility of government, which seized the railroads with statutory authority and seized the steel industry with no authority at all.

Perhaps there can be no such thing as a workable agency to sit in judgment on wage cases. It cannot be questioned in view of the effect of WSB's efforts to judge the railway and steel cases that it is an unworkable agency.

As a cause of strife and irreconcilability, it should be disbanded.

Men in Search of a Party

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN'S mild presidential boom is more interesting to political scientists at the moment than to organization Democrats.

While they are looking for someone who can lead their party, preferably to victory in November, Mr. Harriman is in the curious position of looking for a party he can lead. The question raised by his avowal of willingness to be a candidate is whether or not he can create a desire for his characteristics.

Since this seems, also, to be the problem of Estes Kefauver, it may have to be recognized as the problem of the Democratic party this year. And since it is becoming more plainly evident as time goes on that Republicans have similarly strong opinions against their avowed candidates, it may have to be recognized as the problem of party politics in 1952.

It is impossible to draw up specifications for candidates which would be generally acceptable to most of the members of either party. The North-South antagonism in the Democratic party and the East-West antagonism in the Republican party is running so deep it threatens at times to make the election next November an anti-climax to the showdown in the nominating conventions.

A Dedicated Soul

THE influence of Sir Stafford Cripps over British affairs was living proof that free Englishmen, like free Americans, reserve their deepest respect for a dedicated soul in public affairs.

Nothing Sir Stafford had been called to do as an official of government during and after World War II was calculated to endear him to Britons. He was the symbolic leader of the austerity movement by which sacrifice of everything but the barest essentials was to strengthen British economics.

Even before he entered public life, Sir Stafford had proved he had the courage of his convictions about personal as well as group sacrifice for the common good. Born to the velvet, he chose muslin as his preference.

It will take the example and leadership of many Crippses to give the British something more to share than the poverty bequeathed them by two wars they could not afford to fight and the dissolution of the British empire.

It will take men who dare to challenge the instinct for easy living—who dare to demand the price of economic progress. A Winston Churchill could demand blood, toil, sweat and tears in a dramatic appeal. A Cripps dared to demand less food, less clothing and less of the barest comforts of life in hard-bitten, fritty edicts—and yet die after a long illness with the respect of his countrymen as a monument to his absolute personal integrity.

Steel Story Facts

By David Lawrence

Washington Faces Get Red as Truth Emerges

WASHINGTON

THE TRUTH ABOUT what has been happening behind the scenes in the steel controversy is slowly coming out. And, when all of it does, there will be some red faces in Washington, particularly on the floors of Congress and in the committees where some reckless statements have been made that do not seem to be facts.

For one thing, it turns out that the steel companies never have requested a price increase of $12 a ton. Yet just two weeks ago—on April 8—when the President addressed the nation by radio and television, he said:

"The steel companies are now saying they ought to have a price increase of $12 a ton."

The fact is the steel companies have never specified what price increase they wanted. They have never learned just what the terms of a settlement would be. They have never been able to compute the costs of what they would be required to accept as a wage scale.

This will come as a surprise to the public. In a sense it is a reflection on the steel companies because, for reasons best known to themselves, they have not seen fit to combat the erroneous statements and inferences that have appeared recently concerning their position.

THE EXPLANATION offered by steel industry spokesmen for their silence is that they were in the midst of negotiations in a rapidly changing situation. But, even so, it was apparently a matter of bargaining strategy which caused the steel companies not to ask for a price increase. Their original position, they said, was that stabilization meant no wage increase and no price increase. When the President's Wage Stabilization Board, however, reported a definite recommendation, the industry experts estimated that the full cost of the proposals would be approximately $12 a ton. But nowhere is there any record of any statement or oral request from the industry that, as a consequence, prices must be increased by $12 or any other figure.

This was because the administration took the position that a price increase of around $3 a ton was due the steel companies under the Capehart amendment but nothing more would be granted.

This effectually stopped any request for a price increase, and the astonishing truth is that, ever since the steel companies were seized, the administration has spent its time trying to persuade the steel companies to accept the wage proposals of the board without offering anything at all in the way of a price increase beyond the Capehart Amendment, which was due the companies anyway apart from the present controversy.

AT THIS WRITING, the President has not said he would order the Wage Stabilization Board's full proposals put into effect. Until he determines exactly what the wage figures finally are to be, the steel men say they cannot compute the cost or ask for a price increase to offset all or even a part of the costs. This illustrates the tragic bungling which has been going on all along.

Another misrepresentation has been the careless statement in Congress that the steel companies are building steel plants "tax free" and with money furnished by the taxpayers. The truth is that every company in certain lines of business can deduct each year one-twentieth of the cost of a plant, so that at the end of 20 years a fund can be built up to replace the factory or mill. The government here, since the Korean War broke out, has been anxious to stimulate the building of new steel plants and has allowed the deductions for depreciation to be accelerated so that they can be taken within five years. But if there are no profits against which to apply the deductions, there is no benefit to the companies from the five-year rule. Likewise these deductions on taxes do not start until after the plants are built.

The steel industry has to dig up more than a billion dollars a year of its own money to build the plants. The government doesn't grant the money. Nothing is "free." The total net profit of the steel industry after taxes last year was $667,000,000 so it is to be noted that the companies had to put up out of previous years' earnings a substantial sum in order to build new plants. Any large increase in costs, such as the new wage scales, has a bearing not only on how much profit will be left after taxes but what sums will be available after paying the wages of investors.

ALSO, once the five years are up, the companies pay the higher tax rates on all their earnings without the deduction, and they are saddled then with the cost of maintaining not only the new plants but the old ones which cannot possibly be reproduced at their original cost.

A lot of loose talk about the economics of the steel industry has been heard lately, and it is regrettable that the issue has been permitted in Congress to descend to the levels of demagoguery. It is a pretty serious business and can bring on a serious depression for America—indeed, the future of the American economic system is at stake in the handling of the steel controversy, apart from the fact that steelworkers' wages should be raised or that certain increases must be allowed to cover real costs. Government intrusion in management, operation and planning activities of the steel industry is dangerous. Already some companies are beginning to cancel expansion plans as too risky.

Seeing Double

By TRUMAN TWILL

SOME DAY, when all of us are older—and possibly wiser—it may be possible to make provision in public issues for citizens who see double.

As it is now, each of us is expected to see one side of every issue as it arises at the expense of closing our eyes to the other side. Either we must become partisans, or be taunted with the charge that we are wishy-washy.

The fact is, however, that on just about every issue that can be mentioned—and the reader can mention them — there are two sides, each with points of merit and logic.

A prime source of the bitterness which beclouds issues is the resolute determination of each side to ignore or to misrepresent the position of the other side. This so enrages the partisans on the other side that they conclude there is no justice, that the truth is not in the minds or the hearts of the opposition.

But no one is wise enough to have figured out so far how it is possible to make the decisions which keep government from perishing of paralysis without taking partisan positions and holding them to the bitter end.

THE ALTERNATIVE would be to retreat step by step until there was no more room to retreat in because—and this is the catch—there can be no compromise with an irreconcilable opposition.

Ultimately, lawmakers have to do some compromising for the sake of writing legislation. But up to that point, partisans go through the motions of pretending that all the right is with them, all the wrong with the other side.

It is a strange way to run a government of free and sovereign human beings. But until free and sovereign human beings become infinitely wiser than they are now, it will have to do.

The catch is that the members of the opposition in any given instance are not worthy of anything better. They are not to be trusted with an inch, lest they try to take a mile.

They are narrow, greedy and dedicated to dirty play. They are selfish, ruthless and full of prejudice. They have shown no reason in the past to be viewed with anything but alarm. Unless firmly repressed, they will do incalculable mischief in the future.

Whatever appearances of decency they have been able to muster are false. At heart they are no better than barbarians—pig-headed, ruthless, savage barbarians.

IT IS NOT safe to drop one's guard in their presence. Moreover, they are stealthy, tricky, unscrupulous and hypocritical, saying one thing and meaning another.

The very fact they feel the same way about it proves how utterly worthless they are, because no one with a sense of fairness would fail to recognize the outstanding merit of the cause they are opposing.

It looks like a hopeless way to try to run a country. But the country has managed to stay in the running despite this handicap. Perhaps there is no other way. Perhaps reasonableness is really the denial, instead of the affirmation, of popular government.

Firm Hand Needed

Off With Their Heads!

By George E. Sokolsky

IT USED TO BE that the king could do no wrong. He clipped coins; he gave monopolistic charters to personal friends and favorites; he seized other men's properties and gave them to himself and to those whom he liked best; he even killed men. But he could not be wrong because he was a king.

We have forgotten all about kings as it is so long since we have had any of our own. Besides, in the twentieth century those kings and queens that we know anything about are very much like the rest of us, except that they do so little to earn a living. However, in some countries they still like to have what they call the institution of kingship, just so long as the kings do nothing about governing.

The difficulty about Harry Truman is that he confuses the institution of the President of the United States with that of a pre-Cromwellian king. It is unfortunate that it should be so, because no one had any idea that one election could develop such bantamdom in what used to be—or appeared to used to be—a shy, kindly, rather timid man.

OF COURSE, when Harry Truman dismissed General Douglas MacArthur out of hand, it was somewhat surprising, but then he is Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces and may constitutionally fire generals and admirals and such for the good of the country or to satisfy an artistic mood. When he seized the steel plants without any law to help him, there were many who overlooked the lawlessness of the act on the basis of extraneous issues such as wages, prices and inflation. The danger to the country lay in the President acting outside the law, not in the economics of the situation. Obviously, if he could seize steel, why not anything?

Colonel J. Hale Steinman of the Lancaster (Pa.) Newspapers, upset the applecart by asking that most unfortunately tripping question:

"If the President can seize the steel mills under his inherent powers, could he seize newspapers?"

Harry Truman undoubtedly answered hastily without thinking, a habit which one assumed was limited to his letters, but the way it came out by the usual White House press interview indirection, it read:

"Under similar circumstances, the President has to act in the best interests of the country."

THE CONSTITUTION, however, stipulates what the President may do and what neither he nor any other branch of the government may do. Ours is a limited government.

Actually, his answer implies a prospective violation of the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution, but that does not matter to the President, who has invoked the concept of "inherent powers" which is a violation of the Tenth Amendment.

If the Constitution is to be violated this way, why not drop the Constitution, abolish the Congress, and establish a government by the Presidential secretariat, now firmly established in the old State Department building? In that case, we might also forget that this is a republic and establish an oligarchy modeled after the Politburo and do it all in the name of democracy.

This may sound far-fetched, but it is not more unbelievable than the seizure of the steel plants, the threat of seizure of press and radio, the peremptory order to Congress to pass his budget for foreign aid or he would keep the Congress constantly in session, even to the extent of preventing the members from returning to their constituencies to canvass for their re-election.

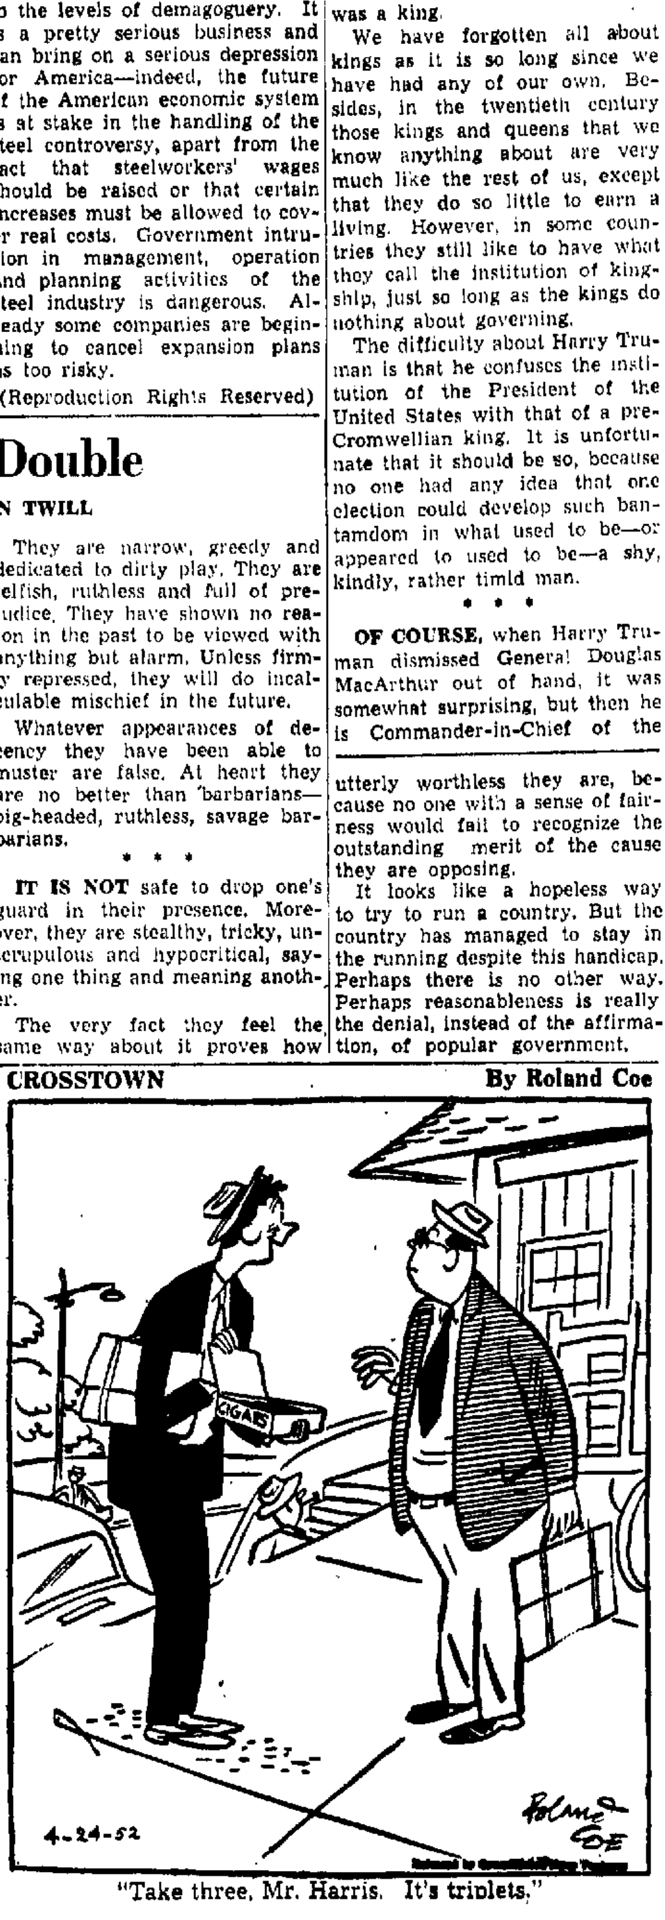
THE REAL responsibility for all this is with the people who have encouraged Truman to believe that he is brilliantly popular and even funny and amusing. The sad part of it is that while his popularity has waned somewhat, it has not waned sufficiently to insure his defeat should he run again—which he probably will do, at great personal sacrifice but only when there is no other to run on the Democratic ticket.

It is doubtful that Truman will not permit himself to be offered the crown—I mean nomination—thrice. May I prophesy that he might hold out twice, but that on third offer he will bow to the draft, relinquish his freedom, serve his countrymen in the renovated White House. Meanwhile, he is having a wonderful time, as a Lame Duck, doing what comes naturally to him.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe



"Take three, Mr. Harris. It's triplets."

Duty of The Opposition

By Raymond Moley

REPUBLICANS are slowly recovering from the shock of the steel seizure and are approaching positive means of opposition. The most promising of these would be a demand that the Congress deny the President the funds to administer the seized properties. Homer Ferguson in the Senate and Frederick Coudert Jr., in the House have similar but not identical proposals to do just that.

As I recorded in this column last week, there were a few protests by Republicans, but no clear suggestions about what might be done. The great majority of Democrats hid their feelings behind a screen of silence. Senator Bridges suggested an investigation, but this was apparently a means of gaining time.

Meanwhile, the President plunged ahead in his reckless course by suggesting that, under the lawless and wayward power that he claims, he could take over the press or anything else that might strike his fancy. This really was looking for trouble. The lame alibi by the harassed White House secretariat did not help much.

IN THE STEEL CASE, to have failed to stand against this brash, illiterate, lawless tyranny would have branded the Republican opposition as unworthy of the status of a major party. How could a nation trust its destiny in a national election to a party with such a tragic lack of courage and resourcefulness? Clearly, it seemed to a few, the Republican minority must do something in the face of a constitutional crisis.

There were those who spoke of impeachment. But this is impractical. Never would the House Judiciary Committee, headed as it is by Emanuel Celler, draw up the specifications of impeachment. Never would a Democratic House resolve to take such a step.

But another affirmative course was open. The President can by action in Congress be denied the means of carrying out his purpose. The Congress can deny him

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Show of Shows

THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH is April. It makes pikers of the most gifted Broadway producers. In comparison to April the Ringlings and the most press-agented of Hollywood miracle men are small timers, stunted and strictly semipro. Here and now spring brings the truly wonder production. Billions of stars perform in every field and on every river bank in "The Resurrection," a play by nature from an original story by Jehovah, with additional effects by the prophets and the saints. Lighting by the Heavens. Choreography by Paradise. Music by Willow, Brook, Maple, Hedge and Waterfall!

The drab colorless winter still lingers when suddenly you look from a window and the curtain rises to music from what are truly "wood instruments" playing the gayest of tunes . . . the wonder of wonders unfolds in a panorama of beauty of which only the gods are capable. . . . Faith, shrivelled a little by the dreary winter, flames again as you behold, where all was bare and straggly, a magnolia or dogwood burst into a sparkling candelabra of pink lights . . . A tangled thicket becomes suddenly a gleaming altar . . . the bleakest yard dotted with a few dandelions becomes a testament of faith

Now the Bible sees its matchless script spring into life, faultlessly produced and faithfully acted; faith and consecration the theme. In an old tree abruptly coming to life you catch the memory of a long-lost loved one and feel that he or she lives and walks in beauty. A flower swiftly opening where yesterday was snow and ice lights a path where you seem to walk again and hear the whisper of a saintly mother and sense the adoration of a gentle wife or husband, knowing that their faith has been fulfilled

The memory of your earliest spiritual experience . . . a boyhood prayer . . . a dim recollection of a consecrated hour . . . the first memory of a lullaby . . . a day at a freshly dug grave and the pastor's "I am the resurrection and the life," . . . each seems flashed on the screen from the glow of bud and flower. Even in the dark corner of a tenement yard, beside a rotted plank and mouldy stone, a single crocus lifts its head and relates the whole story from Golgotha to the empty tomb.

A cheap pot of tulips on a slum windowsill lights up with renewed faith the worn face of a weary woman. . . . Shack, palace, dugout, showplace, prison, hospital and poorhouse all have ringside seats. The close-up is denied to no one. . . . This is it. . . . The Greatest Show on Earth. . . . April!

A BARBER NEAR UNITED NATIONS who took its name for his shop will be permitted to keep it. . . . Good. . . . The very name United Nations gives us a feeling we are supporting global accord while getting a shave. . . . And to the question "Bay rum or witch hazel?" we like replying, "You'll have to give me time for consultations and further directions." . . . "Every good citizen owes it to himself to become a first-class politician. When you cast aspersions on politicians you are not doing yourself or your country any good"—President Truman. . . . Ya mean Washington, Nathan Hale, Israel Putnam, Captain Prescott and the men of Concord, Lexington, Bunker Hill, Belleau Wood, Bastogne and Iwo Jima erred in not putting politics uppermost? . . . Video believe it or nots: on "The Big Story" immediately after a finale showing a man throttling a woman (after a career of stranglings) came the blaring commercial "Avoid Throat Scratch!"

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Friday, April 24, 1942.

President Roosevelt, at a press conference, declared that the war production program was working out extremely well and hinted that another might be piled on top of the one which was called fantastic in January.

British air raiders, systematically blasting Germany's war nerve centers, set great fires at the German Baltic port of Rostock and apparently inflicted heavy damage, while Nazi warplanes stepped up the tempo of their attacks on England.

Henry A. Ryan, 54, Erie Railroad freight engineer, died in his home at 182 E. George St.

The 32nd anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John Barkley of the Upper Sandusky road was the occasion of an anniversary party arranged by the Carpe Diem Club of which Mrs. Barkley was a member.

The Green Camp High School girls chorus of about 30 voices and directed by Thomas O. Targett, won second honors in Class CC in the annual state vocal contest at Ohio State University in Columbus.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Sunday, April 24, 1932.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Freeman of Wood St.

William E. Lee of Carner Ave. returned from Owensville, Ind., where he had been called by the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beales Lee. His mother died seven hours after the death of his father.

Honoring Mrs. Fred Haskell and her sister, Mrs. Earl Stiffler, whose birthday anniversaries came on this date, a dinner was given at the Haskell home on N. Prospect St.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The nation's newspaper publishers are in New York for their convention and if anybody is thinking of seizing the press, the grand ballroom of the Waldorf would be the place to do it.

If you just locked the doors after the soup was served, you'd have them all except the fellow who overslept after a big night of studying circulation figures.

The publishers don't really believe that it could happen here but to play it safe they invited an Argentine refugee editor to tell them how it was done there.

He didn't believe it could happen either . . . but there he was telling how it happened.

That's the funny thing about life . . . it's the impossible that comes through so frequently.

Whoever thought Costello could be making a presidential candidate while he was denying he ever made a mayoralty candidate?

Kefauver wanted to know what Costello had to do with making O'Dwyer mayor . . . now it's O'Dwyer's turn.

Bill To Kill RFC Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reconsruction Finance Corporation (RFC) was sentenced to death in the Senate Wednesday and then promptly reprieved.

A bill to abolish the big government lending agency, offered by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) but supported mostly by Republicans, was accepted on the first go around 42 to 37, to the astonishment of the Democratic leadership.

Allowed another chance under parliamentary rules, the administration scrambled frantically for votes and finally were able to switch enough senators to send the measure back to the banking committee, 39 to 36.

The committee was instructed to bring the RFC measure back to the Senate by June 2, but some of its backers said this was meaningless because Congress would be in the last weeks of its session by that time and tied up with other business. These senators said the measure was dead this session.

Up until modern times, Bangkok, the capital of Siam, was built mostly on pontoons and piles above watercourses which formed streets.

Pleads Innocent To Mailing Bomb To Ohio Man

DENVER (AP)—A 27-year-old veteran accused of mailing a home-made bomb to a Bowling Green, O., man who once dated his wife, pleaded innocent in U.S. district court yesterday.

Donald R. Rankin is charged with depositing injurious and non-mailable articles in the United States mail. No date was set for his trial in federal court in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Officials said 15 sticks of dynamite were mailed in a box to James McCray, also 27, of Bowling Green, last Jan. 5 from Cheyenne. The bomb was discovered before it was opened and no one was hurt.

McCray was shot and wounded last Dec. 8 by a man who came to his apartment door in Bowling Green and then fled.

Bowling Green police said McCray had dates with the future Mrs. Rankin when both attended Bowling Green State University eight years ago. Rankin married her last October.

FANCY DOG TAGS

AUGUSTA, Me. (UP) -- The fancy dog tag is out in Maine. In 1949, the tag was acorn-shaped; in 1950, hydrant-shaped and last year, a miniature dog house. This year it's a simple oval tag.

Marion Garden Center Notes

TULIPS

Tulips should be taken up every third year and the clusters divided, the smaller bulbs being separated from the first grade size and kept apart. Do not take the bulbs up until the flower stalks have bleached white, and do not leave them so long as to permit the flower stalk to become brittle. This will generally be at the end of June.

It is best to cut the tulips when they are in their prime of blooming, before going to seed. For this reason it is a mistake to buy choice tulips, allow them to bloom and then to seed. Seed production takes much food away from the leaves which are building up a good bulb for another year. It has been found that reproduction is more rapid when flowers are cut and culture is best.

Marion Sisterhood Hears Talk By Mrs. Haldeman

MEMBERS of Chapter B.P.P. E.O. Sisterhood, were joined by guests for luncheon and a program Tuesday afternoon in the community room of the West Town Branch of the National City Bank. A large table at one end of the room was centered with an arrangement of daisies and greenery and the guests were seated at smaller tables arranged throughout the room. Favors were crystal lapel flower holders holding daisy nosegays. Luncheon appointments were in yellow.

Mrs. C. D. Weary, president, extended a welcome and gave a brief sketch of P.E.O. and its objectives. The Sisterhood was organized on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan College in Mt. Pleasant, Ia. in 1869. It now has a membership of 108,000 women throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. An educational fund maintained by the organization has aided nearly 10,000 young women in obtaining a higher education. It also maintains Cottey Junior College for Women in Nevada, Mo., the only college in the United States owned and operated by a women's organization.

Through an international scholarship fund 14 girls from eight countries are studying in this country. During the war years the organization maintained four complete clubmobiles as well as providing innumerable comforts for GI's and wounded veterans. The work is continuing through a United Victory fund. The Sisterhood also maintains an accredited observer at the United Nations and keeps an alert eye on world affairs.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Dana E. Welsh and Mrs. Lee Hammond, members of the Ada chapter.

Serving as a committee for the afternoon were Mrs. C. M. Fouts, Mrs. R. C. Alexander and Mrs. W. A. Dallas.

Prison

the cell block to the ground outside. The defiant gesture appeared to prison officials as an open threat of death to the guards.

Hyatt Takes Over

This fear was heightened when Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt emerged from behind-the-scenes leadership to take front-line command of the mutiny. The quick-tempered long-term convict once seized Gov. Williams at knife-point as an escape shield at another prison.

Williams was visiting the other prison at the time. Hyatt failed to get away with that brazen escape try.

Swarms of heavily armed state troopers massed Wednesday night in the rotunda of the prison administration building. They were primed to storm cell block 15 at the first sign that harm had befallen the dog-tired unshaven hostage-guards.

But state police commissioner Leonard carefully avoided any signal that might send his troopers into a premature attack and further endanger the guards.

Thus hour after hour, the state of Michigan played cat and mouse with convicts so high strung after five days of mutiny that an auto backfire in the distance sent them into a delirium of nervous fright.

The mutiny began Sunday night night in cell block 15, where the worst desperadoes in the 6,500 man prison were serving isolation terms for defiance of prison rules.

The rebels seized 13 guards but in the next five days they let four of them go—because of age or illness or in deals for concessions from officials.

On Monday, the isolated rioting spread throughout the big red prison like a grass fire. The raging convicts fired recreation building, ripped apart the insides of their neat cellblocks and spread smoking debris across trim lawns just turning a spring like green.

1 Dead, 11 Hurt

One convict was killed, 11 injured. Four state troopers suffered minor wounds.

Gradually, the rioting was put down in one cellblock after another until by Wednesday Block 15 was the last real bastion of rebel strength.

In that block, the prison's toughest convicts held knives and clubs over the hostage guards, threatening to take their lives in reprisal for any attempt to storm the cellblock.

Warden Julian Frisbie and other prison officials played an extremely cautious game, fearful that too much pressure on the convicts might mean the lives of the guards.

Hot coffee and sandwiches were sent into the cellblock from time to time by prison authorities. Heat, light, and telephone service were maintained.

Tension neared the breaking point when Hyatt stepped to the front Wednesday night as spokesman for the mutineers. Hyatt, 29, serving a long sentence for armed robbery, is known as one of the prison's toughest convicts.

However, when Gov. Williams intervened, Hyatt apparently stepped into the background and the riot-ending agreement bore the signature of Earl Ward, an outwardly more even-tempered leader than Hyatt.

Ward had been the chief spokesman for the convicts throughout the day until Hyatt finally seized the telephone in the cellblock and hysterically shouted demands to Warden Frisbie.

Truce Details

Hyatt insisted the convicts would accept no truce unless it was guaranteed by Gov. Williams. On top of that, the mutineers insisted that it be further backed by a publication in the press. The agreement continued:

"After the newspapers carry the story, a newspaper will be presented to the inmates of 15 block. Immediately after receiving the newspaper, in daylight, four inmates will be stationed at the door to shake down for weapons. The inmates will then file into the dining room to be served an abundant meal of steak, ice cream and appropriate trimmings.

"During the meal, the inmates will file back into 15 block, enter their originally assigned cells, institutional officers will lock the doors and the new rules will be in immediate effect."

WEAPONS TAKEN AT RIOT SCENE. Southern Michigan prison guards, Sgt. Eugene Dolby (left) and Hiram Leister, look over confiscated weapons collected since start of prison riot at Jackson, Mich. They were picked up in the prison yard and in cell blocks. Most of the objects were raided from stores during the general riot.

FALSE ALARM

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Scores of municipal court spectators jumped up and stared when Bailiff Pat Stinson announced over the loudspeaker: "Atom bomb!" Uneasiness turned quickly to laughter when Stinson advised the court he merely was calling the case of Adam Baum, charged with a liquor violation.

Fox Hunters Give Bounties To Charity

Contributions of $25 each were donated recently to the American Cancer Society, the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army by a group of Kirkpatrick fox hunters.

The hunters are paid $3 bounty by the county for each fox they kill, and the money collected is donated to service organizations. Most of their hunting is done in the winter when they are able to trace the animals by tracks in the snow.

Members of the group are Milo Hill, Archie Hare, Earl Speece, Junior Speece, Frank Clutter, Bill Conley, Jim Lemke, Toby Kelly and Bob Boyd.

FATHER DOES DUTY

MOUND CITY, Ill. (UP)—The Rev. J. H. Copeland showed no sign of recognition when he met his 28-year-old son, Thomas, in court. Copeland, a justice of the peace, fined his son $32.00 for disorderly conduct.

16 Second-Line Reds On Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—After weeks of pre-trial proceedings, the government prosecutor delivered his opening statement today against 16 second-string Communist leaders.

U.S. Attorney Myles J. Lane will be followed by four defense lawyers.

The defendants are charged under the Smith Act with conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

A jury of six men and six women and four alternates was sworn in late Wednesday. Jury picking, which started April 15, was preceded by a lengthy and unsuccessful defense attack on the federal jury system here.

Among the 16 jurors is one Negro, an alternate, Noble L. Jones, a Salvation Army social worker.

Defense counsel protested Wednesday that the jury was "anti-Communist . . . virtually all white and virtually all upper class."

Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock said he believed that the questioning of more than 100 prospects had "obtained 12 people who have shown no signs—to me—of prejudice or bias."

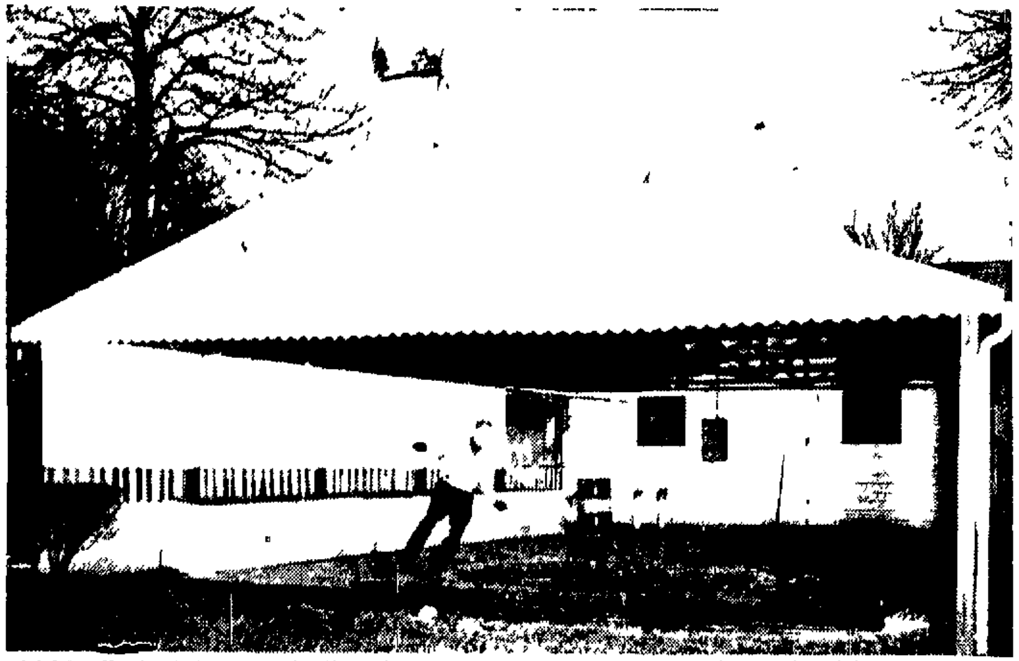
Sheltered Rink Provides Marion Man Year-Round Ice Skating



COOL SKATE ON A HOT DAY. Earl H Harden Marion's No 1 ice skating fan, takes a turn in a backyard skating rink he built this year to enable him to pursue his favorite sport all summer long. An artificial refrigeration unit and a covered shelter converted a winter-time rink he had already built into a permanent rink located in the back yard of his home at 580 E Church St.

By GEORGE SCOTT

Ice skating in 80-degree heat right in his own backyard!

It sounds like something out of "Believe It Or Not," but Earl H Harden of 589 E Church St is doing just that.

The 82-year-old owner of the Harden Music Store has made a dream come true. It took three years of planning, a year of hard work, and an inspirational love of a hobby to do it.

It was 82 degrees when I went to see him. My clothes clung to me and my forehead was wet with perspiration. Even though I knew about his rink, it came as a bit of a shock when I saw that ice in his backyard. It wasn't plastic but the real thing—the same stuff that makes up ice cubes and icebergs.

Actually, only a few persons could make an outdoor summer ice skating rink as he has done. It's just too expensive and too much work for most people, no matter how much they might like ice skating.

But how he has done it is a fascinating story.

He began work on the project a year ago. He already had a rink for winter skating but he wanted to make ice skating a year around hobby by installing a refrigeration unit and building an enclosure to keep the rink in the shade.

On a cement base he laid 120 pipes from side to side. The pipes were laid down in 12 sections weighing over 500 pounds a piece. It took a welder two weeks to weld the pipes together.

The pipes are ¾ inches in diameter and are spaced three inches from center to center. A mixture of water and alcohol is pumped from the refrigeration unit through the pipes giving them a temperature of about 20 degrees.

The refrigerator unit was a big problem. Harden wanted it air cooled in order that the unit would be more portable than the water cooler type. Two employes of Universal Cooler, Don Tatt of 607 Universal Ave and Bob Boyd of 881 Wilson Ave solved it. Harden has nothing but praise for their work.

Last problem to be licked is insulating the rink by enclosing in a shed and he is well on the way to doing that. 'You can think of it like this. My problem is just like heating a house with the doors and windows open, but reversed,' he explained. The roof and sides are being insulated with a tin foil insulation.

The rink is 25 feet wide and 30 feet long. In the winter he can flood an additional few feet, making the rink about 27 by 40 feet.

HE SKATES everywhere. This picture of Earl H Harden was taken by a newspaper photographer in Pulaski, Tenn, surprised one day last year to see him cutting figure eights on a nearby pond. It was a novel sight for the folks down there.

He said the refrigeration unit is designed to ice an area 25 feet by 25 feet in 70-degree temperature. And once the insulation is all on it should do better than that, he said.

A novel feature of the rink is installation of brass valves which permits Harden to make the rink smaller if he wishes. Also it aids in freezing in extremely hot weather.

Here's how he goes about freezing the rink in hot weather. He spreads sand between the pipes and dampens the sand. Then by regulated valves he freezes one section at a time. Once the wet sand is hard, he sprays on thin coats of water in successive layers.

Harden built the rink himself 10 years ago using cement to fill in and bank the plot of ground.

His enthusiasm for ice skating, however, goes back to his boyhood days. He said he owes much of his good health today to ice skating. 'It's the king of conditioning sports,' he said.

The entire Harden family skates except Mrs Harden. They include his three sons—Fred of Marion, Vance of Van Wert, and George of Detroit. He also has seven grandchildren who skate.

Harden's enthusiasm for ice skating is contagious. As I listened I felt I wanted to don a pair of skates again.

He told me about last year when he went south for a trip. Near the little town of Pulaski, Tenn, he saw a pond frozen over. The ice was pretty thin but he thought it would be thick enough to skate on with another night of cold weather.

The next morning curious Tennessee folk saw a man ice skating—a rare sight for them. He said the local newspaper came out and took his picture on skates. That made him just about the best known man in Pulaski.

And that's the way he is about ice skating. He's skated in all parts of the country from Lake Placid, N Y, to Colorado and Canada, too.

I made the mistake of asking him if he was retired from his music business. There was an emphatic 'NO!' He showed me five or six pianos he was working on. He also takes time to do some hunting and fishing.

But ice skating is his first love. About a month ago a piano fell on him injuring his hips and legs. Not long after the accident, he was seen edging out on his ice rink with skates on his feet and a cane in his hand.

C&O Revenue Million a Day

RICHMOND (AP) — The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway had an operating revenue of a million dollars a day for a new record, President Walter J. Tuohy said today.

He told the road's annual stockholders meeting that while class 1 railroads reported a net income of 12 per cent less than in 1950, C & O's was 12 per cent higher.

In fact, he said, only the Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific had greater net income than C & O.

This year, he went on, C & O is expected to earn more than last year's $4.80 a common share. Earnings for the first four months of 1952, he added, will total about $1.66 a share, or 38 cents over the same 1951 period.

The railroad freight rate increase becoming effective a week from tomorrow will bring further improvements in net profit, he said.

Local lodge men will go to Springfield May 17 when the knight rank will be conferred by a staff composed of Marion County lodges. Arrangements are in charge of Gail Weiss of Marion and Gail Shoaf of Waldo. Plans are under way for the organization of a Past Chancellors Association. The State DOKK meeting will be held at Newark Saturday and on next Tuesday night the knight rank will be conferred at Marengo. Refreshments and a smoker followed the business session.

To Discuss Merits of Campaign

Public Meeting Set On United Appeals Drive

Many of the questions about the coming attempt to organize a United Appeals Campaign in Marion City and County will be answered at 8 p.m. Wednesday night, April 30, at Harding High School.

More than 400 invitations will be sent out this week urging members of the community to attend the meeting. It is expected that representatives will attend from labor organizations, service and fraternal clubs, women's organizations, the Manufacturers' Council, Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the County Ministerial Association, various charitable organizations, and other community groups.

Plans to organize a single drive, for all of Marion's charitable needs, now known as a United Appeals, were begun earlier this year when an investigating committee was established by the Marion County Community Chest. Heading the committee is Cleo R. Ludwig, past president of the Community Chest. Other members are J. B Bray, John S. Pickerel, Harold H. Douthitt, Ivan R Barnhart, Mrs. W. I. Barnhouse, Earl Fleming, Carroll Davidson, Robert G. Scott

Study Columbus Setup

In order to observe a United Appeals organization in operation, Bray, Douthitt, and Barnhart met with the Columbus United Appeals committee in January. Columbus' United Appeals drive conducted last fall was the city's first attempt and resulted in an overwhelming success.

Among the persons conferred with was Frank Brockmeyer, liaison officer of the CIO who serves full time on the Columbus United Appeals staff. Brockmeyer said that a major share of the success of the city's drive was credited to a successful solicitation of labor and the sanction of payroll deductions by both labor and management. It is expected that Brockmeyer will attend the meeting in Marion on Thursday night.

Details for the coming meeting were worked out at a planning session last week called by Chairman Ludwig. Present at the session were H. H. Douthitt representing the Manufacturers' Council, John S. Pickerel representing the retail groups, Robert G. Scott, representing industry, Earl Fleming, representing the CIO, Carroll Davidson of the AFL, Fred Hanover, newly appointed director of the Marion County Community Chest, and Leonard Elliot, Community Chest publicity chairman.

Plan Full Program

A full program is planned, and the advantages and disadvantages of a United Appeals Campaign will be presented by qualified speakers

All persons interested in the drive to organize a United Appeals Campaign are cordially invited to attend.

Floods

feet a second. No new heavy rain was in sight.

Eastward on the Mississippi, Iowa towns continued to parry the blows of a record flood there.

Iowa Dikes Hold

The little "island town" of Sabula, most of it below the river level, was the critical point as the river stage reached 19.25 feet and the dikes held. A crest of 19.6 was predicted for tonight. Last year's top was 19.5.

Officials were not too optimistic the dikes would stand the strain.

Downstream, about 40 blocks were flooded at Canton, Mo., and school was dismissed for the week as water lapped at the main building. Students got a similar flood holiday in 1947. About 20 families in the town of 2,500 were forced out of their homes.

In the south, the Shreveport and Lake Charles, La., weather bureaus predicted the Red, Cypress, Sulphur, Little and Sabine Rivers would exceed flood stages within the next few days. Engineers said there were no indications any of the streams would top their levees, barring further rain.

Many little lowland communities near Kansas City felt the flood's punishment The nearby Parkville, Mo., waterworks was threatened with only inches of safety margin.

Little Wolcott, Kas., was cleared of people earlier this week. Riverside, Mo., a hamlet on the flood plain, was under water, too.

But the principal inconvenience to the metropolitan area was closure of the Fairfax Bridge north of Kansas City. Flood water undercut an approach and dropped the concrete roadway into the river.

Engineers said there was little danger this year from the Jersey Creek sewer. It blew out last year, flooding the industrialized Fairfax district. A new pressure conduit type sewer is being built but until it is finished, the sewer is just an open drainage ditch protected on each side by high levees.

BABY TREATED

Two-month-old Treasa Ann Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arthur of 178½ S. Main St., is reported in "fair" condition at City Hospital, where she was taken early today after suffering a choking spell at her home. She was treated for 15 minutes by the inhalator squad from the Central fire station, which was called at 4:20 a.m. Dr. Floyd Yeager was in attendance.

Kettering

biles, refrigerators, television sets'" and answered, "It is the result of individual freedom and liberty."

"Natural resources are important, yes," he said, "but the things people think are more important."

The qualities Scouting teaches, resourcefulness, individualism, freedom, these make for well rounded youths, Kettering said.

There are as many opportunities for pioneering today as there were when men made their living with the axe and musket, he declared. "There are many places where you can go where nobody has been before — in thinking. There is a lot we don't know"

One of the frontiers of knowledge he is working with is the puzzler, "What makes grass green?" Kettering has established a laboratory for the study of chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plants which is essential to the formation of carbohydrates by photosynthesis. Even the name, chlorophyll is an illustration of man's ignorance about the mysteries of plant life and growth, for it means simply, green leaf, he said.

Atomic Explosions Old

The atomic bomb explosion on Tuesday, what was that? It has been going on for years in the sun, and we owe our existence to it, he said. All our energy and food comes from the sun. Our fuel, put down billions of years ago, came from the sun, and we know nothing about it.

If you put all the leading scientists together, they would be like a single man in a desert when it comes to what they know as against what they don't know, Kettering declared.

We have never had the opportunities we have today, he said, opportunities to be individuals, to use our free time in educating ourselves, learning to use our hands in doing things, or our minds in thinking. "We need heart to recognize our relations to other humans, a soul to recognize we're dependent on things beyond our ability to understand."

Individual liberty which fosters the spirit of pioneering has given America knowledge unknown anywhere else in the world, he said. One example he gave was the ability to make things alike—standardization. Only here are interchangeable parts made for machines. Our machines which break down can be made to work again with parts from another. This is unique in the world," he said.

Flies To Marion

Kettering, who flew to Marion Wednesday afternoon from Detroit, left after the dinner for his birthplace at Loudonville, O., where he has an extensive tree farm. He was met here by a sister and brother-in-law, who drove him up. Kettering is an old hand at flying. He holds pilot license No 12 and was taught to fly by the Wright brothers, whose home in Dayton was next door to one he maintains there. His appearance here was arranged by a family friend, John Teetor of Marion, whose parents accompanied Kettering to Marion.

Other features of the program included a talk by Dr. Robert T. Gray of Prospect, Harding Area Council president, on the new Scout crusade, "Forward on Liberty's Team," and a salute to the Scout leaders by Cub Scout Bruce Metzger of Pack 43, Upper Sandusky, Scout Dennis Morton of Troop 60, Bucyrus, and Explorer Dick Zolman of Post 27, Mt. Gilead.

First Eagle Honored

Howard Zeigler of Marion, a member of the council advancement committee, conducted a ceremony in recognition of Donald Grumm of Troop 22, Bucyrus, the first Scout in the council to become an Eagle Scout this year.

Henry A. Kriegbaum of Marion, chairman of the council finance campaign and tastmaster for the program, talked on the fund drive which began this week in communities where the Scout program is not included in Community Chest funds.

In addition to the presentation of the Silver Beaver award to Roy P. Shipton, a number of other awards were presented to Scouters in recognition of their long service or for completing a three-year training program for leaders. A number of Scout troops, Cub packs and Explorer units were cited for participation in the recently completed Scout Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of liberty.

Awards to veteran Scouters, presented by Alfred H. Exton Sr. of Marion, went to L. E. Gillet of Nevada, J. W. Llewellyn of Marion, and Milo Richey of Cardington, 25 years' service; Karl Bechtel of Marion, 20 years, C. B. Woodburn of Upper Sandusky Nelson Campbell of Mt. Gilead, and Robert Cheetham of Marion, 15 years; and L. Otis Porter and Robert T. Mason of Marion, 10 years.

Receiving three-year training awards were Richard Slack, Lowell Pollock, Howard Ziegler and Eldon Jones of Marion and Milo Richey of Cardington.

Clayton Whitmore of Upper Sandusky was presented the Scoutmaster's Key award.

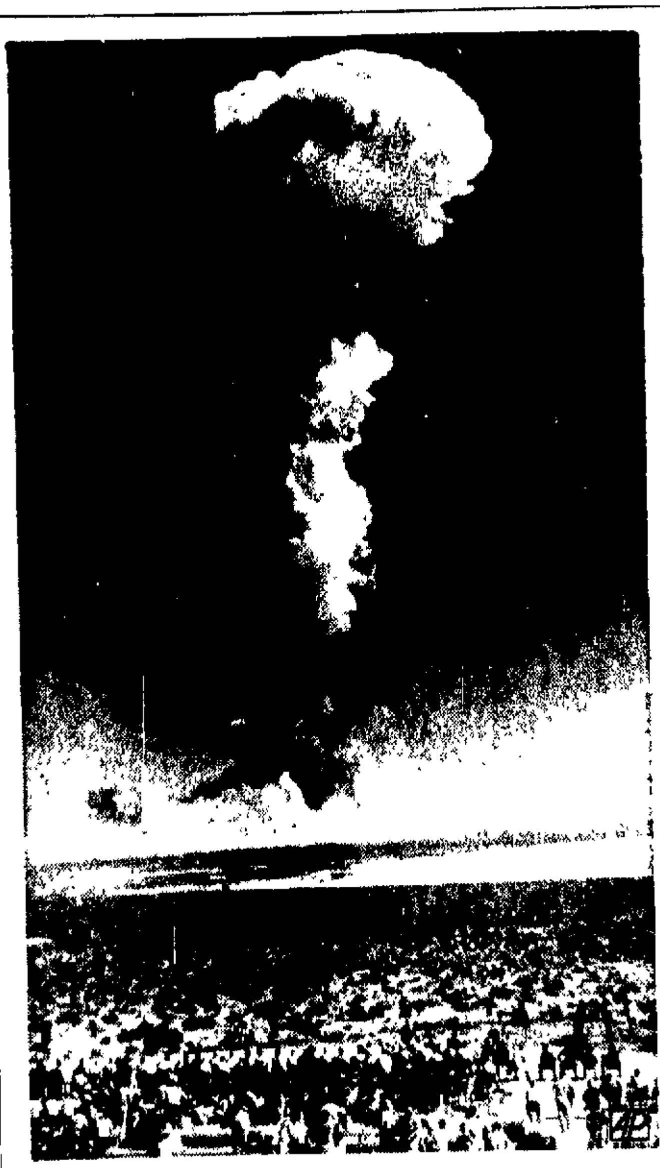
The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Scout Commissioner Karl Bechtel. The Rev Ray S Stephens of Bucyrus gave the invocation. Music during the dinner was provided by Mrs. Earl Ackerman of Bucyrus on the organ. Bechtle led group singing after the meal, prepared and served by members of the Eastern Star. Richard Myers was accompanist.

The program closed with a pageant on the history of Scouting directed by Robert Cheetham and John Teetor. Karl Bechtle and Sam Babich were narrators of a script prepared by William R. Diem.



ON SITE OBSERVERS SEE BLAST. Newsmen and civilian defense officials (foreground) watch the nuclear detonation on Yucca flat as the giant pillar of smoke, topped by the familiar mushroom, rises above the desert at Atom Site, Nev. It was one of the most spectacular atomic bombs ever detonated and jolted observers 10 miles away. Fifteen hundred troops crouched in desert foxholes, some only four miles away, for the test.

on Iran. The President said the ultimatum went through regular channels.

"Was it an ultimatum in the sense that you fixed a time limit for the Russians to move out?" a reporter asked.

The President said they had a day certain (SIC) in which to get out. He said he did not recall how many days were involved.

"Did Stalin reply to you in any written way?" a reporter pressed.

Truman said, he (Stalin) got out of Persia.

2 FISHERMEN DROWN

WOOSTER, O. (AP)—Firemen dragging Lake Killinn today pulled up a drowned fisherman with the hook of a plug in his shoulder. The attached line led down into the water to his companion, also dead. The victims were Donald Isch, 23, and Harold Carpenter, 25, both of Marshallville.

Comedy Well Received

Audience of 1,500 Sees Harding Class Play

"Room For One More," Harding High School's Senior Class play, was well received by an audience of about 1,500 at two performances Wednesday, it was reported today by William Calvert, director.

The comedy drama, telling the problems of the Rose family, was presented at 2:30 and 8:15 p.m. on the stage of the Palace Theater About 600 attended the matinee, and 900, the evening performance

Major roles were played by Colleen Wooten, who portrayed Mother; Harold Alexander, Joey, the oldest adopted boy; Leonard Schlect, Poppy; Ronnie Owens, Jimmy John, the adopted crippled child, and Roselle Gettys, Janie, the adopted daughter.

Others in the cast were Sally Ann Knickle, Marjorie Dearth, Barbara Clements, Marilyn Siffritt, Sally Runyan, John Gantt, Dorothy Yocom, Pamela Smyth, Eddie Porter and Gary McAfee.

The story revolves around Mother and Poppy Rose, who love children and raise five, three of whom are adopted despite financial difficulties.

The problems of the Rose family become more complicated when Poppy dies, and the weight of raising five children falls upon Mother. All the children then pitch in to keep the meager family income ahead of the bills.

But when Joey goes away to study medicine, the family is forced to either sell the Pumpkin Shell, their summer cottage, or discontinue leg operations on Jimmy John.

All ends happily when Mother sells to the movies a story which she wrote describing how Jimmy John overcame his handicap. The sum received for the story takes care of all family expenses including Jimmy John's leg operations.

sell (D-Ga) for the Democratic nomination — said Harriman should either resign his post or drop out of the presidential race

Harriman replied it is a "common and well-accepted practice for men holding public office in this country to seek nomination for public office."

Both the House and Senate have yet to act on President Truman's request for almost eight billion dollars in foreign aid funds — and what effect Harriman's candidacy will have on the congressional vote remains to be seen.

Today's activities found Taft speaking in and around Little Rock, Ark.; Harold E Stassen, another GOP candidate, making addresses in Akron and Cleveland; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the front-running Democratic candidate, in Steubenville, Ohio; and Russell going on the air with a recorded speech in Washington.

And this is what happened around the nation Wednesday:

Taft supporters vacated the Louisiana state convention at Alexandria for a technical debate and backers of Eisenhower raced back to the meeting room and elected four delegates to the national conventions. The Taft faction then met and named four delegates, too. In all, the national convention will have to decide disputes involving 10 of the state's 15 seats.

Stassen will be opening his Ohio campaign here. Tomorrow he keynotes a mock convention at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland After a flight to New York for a television program, he returns to Cleveland Saturday to speak before the City Club.

Accidents Pile Up After Truck Crash

A chain reaction of three traffic accidents was produced when a tractor and semi-trailer outfit jackknifed on Route 42, about half a mile north of Mt. Gilead at 10 a.m. Wednesday, the state highway patrol reported.

Herman Lloyd, 25, of Springfield, was driving south when his vehicle jackknifed, causing considerable damage to the cab and trailer.

About 15 minutes later at the same spot, a southbound car driven by Hanley Jerome, 24, of Mansfield struck the rear of a car driven by Gerald A. Williams, 29, of Cleveland, which was stopped in a line of traffic halted by patrolmen to allow for the removal of the tractor and semi-trailer from the road. Both cars were considerably damaged.

Jerome Arrested

Jerome was arrested on a charge of reckless operation and was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty before R. R. Bennington, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead.

Fifteen minutes after the second accident, southbound cars driven by Raymond E. Stone, 33, of Marengo and August Lapuh, 42, of Cleveland, collided in an attempt to avoid hitting a moving van which was swerving in the road ahead of them.

Patrolmen reported that the driver of the van, who was not identified, apparently came over a hill, saw the Williams and Jerome cars parked in the highway from the previous accident, and in attempting to stop, began to swerve from one side of the road to the other. The Lapuh and Stone cars were damaged slightly

One Other Accident

One other accident and one arrest Wednesday were also reported by the patrol.

Elizabeth L. Adams, 18, of Indianapolis, Ind., lost control of her car and drove into a ditch on Route 98, 1½ miles south of the Crawford County line in Marion County, at 1:30 p.m She was not injured, although the car was considerably damaged.

Larry Lee Davis, 19, of Richwood was charged with speeding on Route 23 at 9:30 p.m. He posted bond for appearance in Municipal Court today.

Sailors Hide 2 Teen-Age Ballet Dancers On Ship

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two teen-age Turkish ballet dancers who wanted to see the United States were arrested by FBI agents as stowaways when their ship docked here

They were in the House of the Good Shepherd, a detention home, today under $1,000 bonds.

The two sailors who made their trip possible are in Orleans parish prison, also under $1,000 bonds. All four were arrested Wednesday.

J M Lopez, agent in charge of the FBI here, said a mystic dance staged at sea, with the accompaniment of war whoops, led to their discovery aboard ship four days out of Istanbul, where they had been smuggled aboard.

Lopez identified the girls as Ayzel Kaynak, 16, and Nermin Ocunsal, 17.

He said the two seaman were Robert Eugene Presley, 21, of Memphis, Tenn., and Joseph O'Neill, 23, of Winthrop, Mass.

Lopez said the girls told him a chance meeting with the two seamen in Istanbul started the plan to visit America.

stitution in seizing the steel plants, said the President may be "commander-in-chief," but this means command of the armed forces—"not the command of the people of the United States"

"If that were not true," said the Chamber in testimony prepared for a Senate judiciary subcommittee, "then the President could become a dictator overnight and every American, from the cradle to the grave, could be made to goose step."

The Truman administration was taking its time about ordering pay raises in the seized industry. The latest word was that this won't come until next week.

Putnam insisted that working out the pay raise was a time-consuming job. Neither he nor Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, government boss of the seized industry, would give a hint as to how much the expected pay boost will be

Some quarters suggested Truman may be delaying the pay raise action in hope the furor in Congress over his seizure order may die down or that, by some chance, the industry and union may reach a contract agreement on their own. Neither seemed likely.

Congress Angry

Congress was seething with argument over the seizure The Senate had three investigations going on the steel situation by its judiciary, banking and labor committees. And the House prepared to vote today on a proposal by Rep. Allen (R-Ill) for a probe of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB), with particular emphasis on its handling of the steel case

U.S. paper money in its present size was first issued in 1928.

'twas a HARD WINTER on streets,
but—Air-Entrained CONCRETE can "take it"

EASY-RIDING concrete streets are an all-year asset but you'll appreciate them most when spring "breakups" make many streets nightmares of mud, ruts, bumps and dangerous chuckholes.

Thousands of concrete streets all over the country have served for 25 years or longer with little maintenance. Today, with the development of air-entrained concrete, your streets can be made even more durable.

Air-entrained concrete pavements resist scaling caused by chemicals used to melt ice and snow. They are skid-resistant, wet or dry, and usually cost less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. For safer, easier driving the year around be sure your city streets are paved with long-lasting, air-entrained concrete.

Quadrennial Session Begun By Methodists

San Francisco Host To Legislative Body Of Church Conference

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) The quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Church began legislative sessions today after hearing a leading bishop assert 'reckless demagogues' threaten America's civil liberties

The warning came from Bishop Paul B Kern of Nashville Tenn in the traditional episcopal address Wednesday night He said concerted and often vicious efforts to regiment thought and curb freedom of speech were being made in the political educational and religious fields

Delegates elected officers Wednesday for the committees which will report on some 1,500 petitions to be brought before the conference One of the first motions adopted dealt with the most controversial issue of the conference — a three-year survey by industrial engineers aimed at streamlining church structure The motion by Dr Harold C Case president of Boston University and a member of the survey commission called for discussion of the survey at a special session Friday

Governor Earl Warren of California welcomed the delegates Wednesday night He said that while the United Nations has not accomplished too much the lofty ideal is intact and most of the nations still envision a peaceful world

In his address Bishop Kern declared that reckless demagogues are exploiting a feeling of fear that is largely groundless and neurotic

It is becoming more and more impossible he said to shape foreign or domestic policies upon rational grounds The democratic process cannot operate when disagreement is counted disloyalty '

The bishop said demagogues smear the names of honest men by unfounded charges of traitorous connections ' Then he asked

Is character so unprotected that it may be assassinated by unchecked rumors uttered by party fanatics who, under the guise of superpatriotism hold no truth in reverence if a lie will better serve their unholy purposes'

CONVICT HOLDS KNIFE AT HOSTAGE GUARD'S THROAT. An unidentified convict holds a knife at throat of guard Kenneth Parsons with intent of convincing Michigan state police that rioting convicts mean business at Michigan state prison, Jackson. Parsons, one of 11 hostages, was held in this position most of the afternoon of the riot.

Veep Speaks At Middletown

MIDDLETOWN O. (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley said Wednesday night the Republican party has no "affirmative, constructive and statesmanlike proposals and programs" and stands only in opposition to the record of the Democrats.

Barkley, the keynote speaker at the Butler County Jackson Day dinner challenged Republicans "to come forward with an affirmative program into which the American people can put their teeth."

Americans "are entitled to know definitely where each party stands, and where each candidate stands upon the vital problems . . ." the vice president said.

The Democratic party, said Barkley, "has pushed back the frontiers of communism, has strengthened the wills of free people of the world to defend their institutions.

"The Democratic party has made a record for service to the American people never matched by any party or in any similar period of history of the country."

He said Democrats will place that record "up against any record of our opponents at any time in their history and ask the American people and the people of Ohio to judge it according to its merits—and not according to the vicious and malicious and irresponsible propaganda hurled against it by self-seekers."

New Pole Built by Students, Teachers

Vernon Junior High Now Flying First Flag

The first flag raising ceremony of Vernon Heights Junior High School was held this morning with all students and faculty members taking part.

The American flag was raised in front of the school for the first time on the recently constructed flag pole, built by students and faculty members of the school.

Before this morning, no flag has been displayed outside the school, although there is one in most classrooms, Clark M. Fouts, principal, reported.

All members of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, and faculty members stood at attention as Ben Atkinson, captain of the school patrol, raised the flag. Joe Snouffer, school president, and Gene Armstrong, vice president, assisted.

Joe Snouffer then led the students and faculty in the Pledge to the Flag. The flag was once used at the Central High School and had been given to the school administration by the late W. E. Orcutt.

Action to construct the flag pole started in Student Council and was one of the projects financed by the sale of magazine subscriptions. Herman Powelson, custodian, and Donald Baggs, industrial arts and mechanical drawing teacher, assisted by the ninth grade boys completed the construction.

Concrete for the base of the pole was donated by the Millard Hunt Co., and the pole was purchased at cost from the F.C Bender Plumbing Co.

All junior and senior high schools in Marion now have a flag pole in front of the school.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

Firemen from the Central station were called to the David Evans residence at 346 W. Center St. Wednesday night at 11:58 when a short circuit occurred in the motor of a deep freeze unit. Damage was estimated at $225.

Troopers

to others as they did. They talked in close knots behind the glass doors, tense and excited.

Troopers Rush Out

Heavily armed state troopers came pouring through the four clanging steel doors into the huge, steel-balconied rotunda. Pistols and shotguns were passed rapidly hand-over-hand from the prison arsenal.

Bitter guards, normally unarmed, grabbed them eagerly. Most who didn't get guns got portable spotlights. Others rolled in big acetylene torches—for cutting or welding steel.

The first fire since Wednesday dawn broke out. Someone tossed a burning mattress out of cell block No. 7. Some convicts there sawed their cell bars out Tuesday night and got into the shadowy dark catwalks.

Suddenly state troopers jumped up, cocking guns. They poured into the yard. Quickly the news tunnelled through the gun-and-man-packed rotunda, "There's a breakout in No. 7 again." It was a minor incident, however.

Moments later State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard and Assistant Deputy Warden Vernon Fox, prison psychologist, and a convict favorite, walked briskly through clanging doors toward the outside — and belligerent Cell Block 15.

Newsmen craned necks at barred windows for an oblique look at the officials standing outside the Cell Block 15 window —scene of all negotiations.

Tight-lipped, the officials walked back to Warden Julian Frisbie's office. Minutes later they came out. Tense, elbowing newsmen crowded around. Then it was over.

Agrees To Terms

Gov. G. Mennen Williams had agreed to meet terms of the mutineers, who in turn had agreed to come out after "the governor's letter has been in the newspapers."

Bearded, bleary-eyed newsmen, still traveling on nervous energy raced to grab the only two telephones open to more than 50 of them.

Smiling, some for the first time since Sunday, and now relaxed Frisbie and other authorities pulled on their topcoats, shook hands here and there and, with a jaunty step that belied their weariness, got into waiting cars—and untroubled sleep once again awaiting them.

The convicts have the state's agreement to these steps covering their demands:

Prisoner-election of a 10-inmate advisory council to meet monthly with prison officials to discuss convict grievances, no reprisal "of any sort" against the rioters by corrections department personnel; remodeling of Cell Block 15 with larger windows, cots in all cells and lighter colors of paint in the cells;

Counsellors to have access to prisoners being disciplined, segregation of homosexuals and assaultive prisoners in the general group; elimination of all restraint equipment except handcuffs, leg irons, restraint belts and wrist chains, full rations to all prisoners whether in detention or not.

Dental care to be given on a first-come, first served basis; trial by a disciplinary court before any convict goes to detention cell; and prisoner complaints about parole procedure to be forwarded to the state parole board.

Some tribes of American Indians once believed there is an old woman in the moon making a basket and that the world will be destroyed when the basket is completed.

Tribe Sinks To Third Place After Dropping 1-0 Verdict

Feller, Cain Hook Up In Tight Mound Duel

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What goes with those revitalized Hornsby-ized St Louis Browns

One night they Byrne up the Cleveland Indians seven-game winning streak and the next they raise 'Cain' with the Tribe shoving them out of first place and taking over the American League top rung themselves

Following on the heels of the splendid eight-hitter by Tommy Byrne Tuesday Bob Cain unfurled a one-hit masterpiece Wednesday night as he pitched the rampaging Brown into first place with a brilliant 1-0 triumph over the Indians great Bob Feller

Cain had to pitch the best game of his life in order to win for Feller was magnificent too, pitching a one-hitter himself The lone Brownie safety, a triple by lead-off batter Bobby Young, proved Feller's undoing

Marty Marion followed with a grounder to Al Rosen When the third baseman fumbled the ball, Young scored the only run of the game The tally was ruled earned since the official scorer was of the opinion that Young would have crossed the plate fumble or no

Easter Singles

The only hit permitted by Cain was a harmless single by Luke Easter in the fifth inning The 27-year-old lefthander from Salina, Kas walked three but was aided by three double plays He struck out seven

It was the second time in major league history that each pitcher limited the opposition to one hit On July 4 1906, Mordecai (Three-Fingered) Brown of Chicago and Lefty Leifield of Pittsburgh permitted only one hit each as the Cubs defeated the Pirates, 1-0

On May 2 1917 Hippo Vaughn of Chicago and Fred Toney of Cincinnati pitched no-hitters each through nine innings The Reds however, nicked Vaughn for two hits and a run in the 10th to win 1-0 as Toney hurled a 10-inning no-hitter

The former American League record for the fewest hits by both teams in one game was three set by Detroit (2) and Washington (1), June 10 1913 and equalled by Washington (2) and Cleveland (1) July 27, 1915

It was the first one-hitter by Cain but the 11th for Feller and the only one-hitter he ever lost Ironically, Cain was Feller's victim when Bob pitched his third no-hitter last year The Cleveland righthander defeated Cain and Detroit last July 1, 2-1, holding the Tigers hitless Cain allowed six hits

It was a bitter upsetting defeat for the Indians who had breezed into Sportsman's Park Tuesday night unbeaten in seven games The Browns won Tuesday 8-3

The Indians tumbled into third behind the Boston Red Sox

Sox Beat Yanks

Boston's youth - infested Red Sox, behind the five-hit pitching of 37-year-old Ellis Kinder defeated the New York Yankees 3-1 Kinder walked six and fanned five in besting Allie (No Hit) Reynolds

The Red Sox kinder-garten took charge of Boston's offense Freshmen Jim Piersall, Ted Lepcio and Sammy White accounted for six of Boston's eight hits and drove in two of the runs Piersall cracked two doubles, Lepcio hammered a home run and two-bagger and White slammed a triple and single

The New York Giants out-slugged the Boston Braves, 9-5 in the only National League game Home runs by Alvin Dark, Don Mueller, Wes Westrum and relief Pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm featured the Giant victory Rookie Ed Mathews snapped out of his batting slump with a home run and two singles

Scheduled games between the St Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Philadelphia Detroit and Chicago and Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics were postponed because of rain Pittsburgh and Chicago's Cubs were idle

Grid Browns Select Hiram As Camp Site

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will practice at Hiram College this year instead of Bowling Green State University

Coach Paul Brown, announcing this today said the facilities at Bowling Green were good But he added Hiram is closer to Cleveland cooler and has a better turf available

The pro footballers could not use the varsity game turf at BG and the practice field was hard despite frequent waterings

Hiram has fewer entertainment facilities—not even one motion picture theater But Brown still irked about losing the championship game to Los Angeles, declared

I'm not interested in entertaining the player

Practice starts a week later this year, in the first week of August The first exhibition will be Aug 23 at Green Bay Wisc, against the Packers

When the club returns to Cleveland it will practice at League Park rather than at the Stadium Recently sold to the city by the Cleveland Indians League Park has been made available to the Browns

Brown said he liked it better than the stadium for practice—there is more privacy

Brown also announced he had signed Fullbacks Emerson Cole and Floyd Huggins to contracts for next season Cole a former Toledo University star, has played two years with the Browns Huggins is a rookie from the University of Florida

The Cleveland Rams practiced at Hiram in 1944 and then moved to Bowling Green in 1945 The next year they moved to Los Angeles

ABC Bowlers Fall Short of Reputations

MILWAUKEE (AP) — There was a real parade of stars in doubles and singles Wednesday in the American Bowling Congress tournament but manufacturing of strikes didn't come up to the reputations of the name keglers who took to the alleys

Billy Sixty veteran bowler-writer of Milwaukee, grabbed singles laurels with a 690 blast but it was well out of the top ten in the standings Sixty had games of 221 251 and 213

Gilbert Smith Akron O fired at 1 882, just six pins out of tenth place earlier He added a 614 doubles series and a 643 singles to his 625 in team the night before

Dick Hoover the former national match game king from Akron O, had 581 doubles and 568 singles to go with a 569 team count for 1 718

CHAPMAN BLASTS FROM TRAP. Dick Chapman, former British amateur champion, blasts from a trap on the 17th hole at Pinehurst N C after staging a comeback to take the lead in his match with Ray Palmer of Wyandotte, Mich, in first round match of North-South golf meet Chapman, trying to win before the home town folks lost the match, one up

Cincy Set For Chicago After Layoff

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds choked back their disappointment after being rained out of their game with St Louis at Crosley Field Wednesday and prepared to take it out today on the Chicago Cubs

The postponement also galled Redleg fans who surprised at the locals fine early showing have been showing their pleasure at the turnstiles

It did, however give the athletes a chance to get a good night's rest in Chicago before opening their two-day series with the Bruins

Ewell Blackwell is set to work today against Chicago which is tied with Cincinnati for second place Bob Kelly will be the Cubs pitcher Both hurlers have dropped one game

The early season victories have made Cincinnati Manager Luke Sewell even more of an optimist than ordinary Luke is confident now that his charges will keep right on winning if hustle and alertness count

The lack of errors (the Reds have made only three so far) also is gratifying So is the exceptional handiwork displayed by Bobby Adams at his new position at third base plus the excellent fielding shown by Sewell's new combination of Grady Hatton at second and Roy McMillan at short McMillan hasn't been hitting worth a lick but his fine glovework has won Sewell over

And when you figure in the heavy hitting by Messrs Hatton Ted Kluszewski and Joe Adcock you can see why General Manager Gabe Paul isn't quite as hopped up now about trading a pitcher to Brooklyn in an effort to obtain more plate power

Weather Curtails Association Action

By The Associated Press

The batters who have been having a field day in the American Association gave ground to the pitchers Wednesday in the only two games played

Two night contests, Columbus at Louisville and Toledo at Indianapolis were postponed because of rain and cold weather

In afternoon games, Milwaukee shaded St Paul 3-2 and moved into a tie for first place with idle Indianapolis, while Minneapolis beat Kansas City 3-1 and climbed into a tie for third place with Louisville

Got Pitch Too Close, Says Feller

ST LOUIS (AP) — "I was throwing for the outside and got the ball too close to the alley" Bob Feller says about that pitch that Brownie Bob Young socked for a triple and resulted in a St Louis victory

The first pitch was a curve ball for a called strike and I was wasting one

Manager Al Lopez of Cleveland who had Jim Fridley playing a rather shallow position ruefully watched the ball sail over Fridley's head

I certainly bet me the way that ball went Lopez said I can't figure out why Bob Cain is so tough for us Maybe it's he has a fast ball and a slow breaking curve

Cain worked for the Indians as an off-season ticket seller last winter At the time he promised he wouldn't steal any of the Indians secrets

Sees Former Star Heading Davis Cuppers

Failure of Shields Last Year May Bring Pate Recall

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost the best bet in the sports future book for the coming year is that the nation's tennis leaders will ask Walter (Cap) Pate, the Wall Street lawyer, to please give up his bridge for a couple of months and lead our somewhat shattered Davis Cup forces against the Australians

The next best bet, we are in position to disclose, is that the lively little barrister, though now over 70 and out of harness since he captained the victorious American team at Melbourne in 1946 will consent to give it another whirl if he's asked just right Reason we know is we asked him

FIRST ANSWER WE GOT was No, I just couldn't do it again It's too far, and the strain laid me up for a week after the last one '

There followed a considerable conversation about the problems facing the cup committee, including the selection of captain. The Cap' conceded they were fierce We then asked him gloomily, if he would be willing to go to Adelaide next winter as second in command, a sort of captain emeritus, to give our leader the benefit of his experience

Absolutely not,' Pate snapped 'If I go I'll have to be in complete command and I'll insist that we get over there at least six weeks before the challenge round so we are thoroughly acclimated I wouldn't go under any other conditions We had a lot of fun the other time, didn't we '

In other words, the canny old strategist who brought the big cup back from Britain in 1937—with a bit of help from Don Budge—and who repeated nine years later at Melbourne is not going to seek the job, but he will be reluctantly available when they insist it is his duty.

We'll now tell you why the tennis dudes must come back to Pate The first reason is that he represents success The second, and most important, is that they tried youth last year in the person of Frank Shields and everyone wound up unhappy. Frank has said he wouldn't captain another cup team to Australia or anywhere else if they paid him, which heaven forbid

For years members of the wilder set had been yelling that they should toss out the old fud-die-duddies and name young, vigorous moderns to captain our tennis knights The latter, they said had played the game since it became popular to serve overhead, and hence could do a much better job of coaching and advising our lads from the Victorians

IT SOUNDED GOOD, but it didn't work out that way Shields proved to be a little too strict and too vigorous for the taste of at least one of his players, Dick Savitt Perhaps it was too fresh in mind that Frank had not been famous for his decorum when he was at his peak only 20 years ago At any rate, it is extremely doubtful that another of the younger set, outside of Gardnar Mulloy, would want a crack at the captaincy after what happened to Shields. Mulloy has offended the brass too often to be in the running

So the choice will come back to Pate, and he will have a grand time seeing old friends down under He won't bring the cup back this time, but he will come as close as any other captain they might elect

A-Bomb on TV

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

AMERICA HAS LEARNED to live with the atom bomb.

The final proof of this was the televising of the latest explosion in Nevada.

There was a mixed reaction to the A-bomb's video debut. Taken purely in terms of sound, many viewers found it less awe-inspiring than the vocal chords of Milton Berle.

"It looks like a closeup of Jimmy Durante," one spectator commented. Others felt it still had a long way to go before it would seriously rival Arthur Godfrey. And some, who dialed in the demonstration late, mistook the gigantic smoke puff for a new kind of cigaret ad.

But the mere fact that millions of housewives could sit in their living rooms and calmly watch an atom bomb burst shows how much the public has lost its fear of this frightful weapon.

Even five years ago a show of this kind might have stirred up a storm of protest. People had an unreasoning panic about the atom bomb then. Many parents objected to radio discussions of it, saying it created hysteria in their children.

At that time the bomb was actively feared as an instrument that could and might well be expected to wipe out civilization. It would be interesting to know how many families bought remote mountain hideaways, or secretly stored food caches in caverns against the possibility of the outbreak of a disastrous world-wide atom war. It was done.

BUT RECENTLY, despite the announcement of three atomic explosions in Soviet Russia, the national dread of atomic conflict has died down. The scare wave has subsided.

One reason is that five years ago it was accepted as a certainty that a new war would be heralded by a rain of atom bombs. But fighting has gone on for 22 months in Korea without the employment of these devastating bombs by either side. Hope is growing that they never may be used again in anger.

Another reason for the more sensible approach to the problem of the atom bomb is the fact that the population has become adjusted to an atmosphere of prolonged crisis. You can't remain tense forever. People who live on the edge of a precipice gradually get accustomed to it. Potential danger is always frightening at first. But after a time it merely becomes an annoying bore.

Children no longer have nightmares over whether an atom bomb will fall. They have been taught in school what to do, and it's just another kind of fire drill to them. But they are better prepared for such a disaster than their parents. Most grownups still haven't taken the trouble to learn what precautions to follow. They are simply tired of the whole subject.

GETTING KILLED by an atom bomb is more and more accepted as a possibility in the same category as being hit by lightning or getting kicked to death by a horse. It might happen, but meanwhile a man has to get up and go to work every day—and take his chances.

Atom bombs are getting stronger and more numerous as the scientists go on quietly exploring the mathematics of extinction. But the average man today has worn out his worry. He figures he will probably go on living and that, no matter what happens, the earth will go on spinning through space as it always has, meeting a fresh dawn every day.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

THERE'S A POLITICAL draft blowing into the renovated White House—and Mr. Truman has not yet shut the door.

Within a week or so, a group of the Democratic party's big city machine leaders—the men who really get out the votes that count—will see Mr. President and ask him to run again. Specifically they will urge him not to spike their quietly organized "Operation Draft Truman."

When last they met—recently—these few men from the big eastern and midwestern cities decided they will say, in effect, "We are the central corps of the Democratic Party. We must fight the campaign. We are the ones who really make high policy. Now we need a candidate. We have none. We can't win with those who say they're potential candidates.

"We realize that in your private life, next to your devotion to Mrs. Truman and Margaret, you love your party activity most. Well, we're the party. We want you to run."

These are the men with whom Harry Truman was raised politically. From Chicago to St Louis, they are the men he's sat with and filled hotel rooms with smoke and political maneuverings.

These are not the White House job worriers, nor the braintrusters. They are the men Harry Truman will find most difficult to turn down. They don't have much hope of outweighing Mrs. Truman, but they'll try.

This is no "dope" story. This is gospel from the inner circle—in which are men who reluctantly made the decision to urge Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson to include himself out, so the party can carry Illinois for the national ticket. Without Stevenson running for governor that state couldn't be found in a winning Democratic column by Pinkerton men.

FURTHERMORE, this inner band of political leaders has been talking to its labor allies—some of whom are the big wheels of the city machines. Democratic AFL leaders have said there just is no candidate but Harry Truman who can give the union chiefs a real chance to go out and campaign for the "labor vote."

Informed labor leaders have pointed out to some Democratic chiefs that both Sen. Taft and Gen. Eisenhower will have pub-lab support long before the Republican convention. This is absolutely certain. True, the majority of the labor leaders will stay in the Democratic Party, but enough will bolt—even to the man they've been criticizing so bitterly, Sen. Taft—to neutralize heavy labor campaigning.

There is no doubt that AFL construction trades leaders are close to Sen. Taft, confer with him and are ready to help him win the nomination — regardless of what you hear. As soon as General Eisenhower declares himself on labor, he will be openly supported by a group of union men now awaiting his policy statements.

When the GOP nominee, whoever he is next July, starts making his acceptance speech, these labor forces will back him—a minority of labor men, but all of them highly influential.

This, in part, accounts for the eagerness of other AFL chiefs and the CIO leaders to join the "Draft Truman" operation. Unless these union chiefs can come to their high councils with a man who has allied himself with them as publicly as Mr. Truman, and as disdainful of neutrality — the Democratic labor chiefs will be unable to throw into high gear a costly national radio, television, stump speaking and inside-the-shop political campaign. Their dollar-per-man fund-raising drives will fizzle. And their inability to deliver a labor vote will hurt their chances to influence Congress for years.

MR. TRUMAN has been a laborite president. Even this past week end in Washington he was backing Phil Murray's steel workers to the limit over the opposition of his cabinet members including Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer, in the Wardman Park basement television studio where Meet The Press runs its hard hitting show, told us, in effect, last Sunday that he was not ready to give CIO steel workers everything recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board. He indicated that he was not ready to grant the union shop which would make all steel workers members of CIO. Later that night the report was that he would grant, as a wage increase, the companies' final offer. Elsewhere to some intimates, price boss Ellis Arnall revealed that the steel companies were ready to yield for a $6-a-ton increase.

But both Sawyer and Arnall told me that it's up to Mr. Truman.

From other sources it was learned that Mr. Truman was insisting on full delivery to the steel union. That's the way he felt. And that's why much of labor feels that way about him—and is backing "Operation Draft."

HELD IN "SCARE KIDNAP" PLOT. Despite his denials, Charles W. Johnson (right) is taken into custody in Havana by Cuban policeman Juan Bolet in connection with the "scare kidnaping" of Rickey Richter, 6, son of a wealthy Miami jeweler. Johnson is accused of extorting $15,200 in cash and jewelry from Rickey's father, Dan Richter, and police say the suspect's luggage contained many jewels. Employing a slick ruse, a woman took Rickey from school and delivered him at a distant hospital. Confederates then phoned the father and said the boy had been kidnaped.

Blames Mealtime Conversation For Morals Breakdown

DAYTON (AP) — A National Federation of Women's Clubs official said last night, "distraught, neurotic conversation of parents at family dinner tables" is causing a "general breakdown of moral integrity" in the nation.

Mrs. Jay Laurence Lash, chairman of the Federation's Home department, addressed the opening session of the Ohio Federation three-day convention here.

She urged delegates to organize family clinics, arrange marriage counseling and youth guidance groups and to seek jobs such as juvenile court and probation officers.

Ralph M. Besse, president of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs, and Dan T. Moore, Cleveland industrial consultant, will speak today.

The Ohio Federation also will elect officers. Those nominated without opposition are:

President, Mrs. Walter Magee, of Lakewood; first vice-president, Mrs. Chester A. Smith of Columbus; second vice-president, Mrs. Roy E. Davis of Circleville; secretary, Mrs. Jessie K. Brumbaugh of Greenville, and treasurer, Mrs. Joseph C. Donohue of Miamisburg.

Ex-Revenue Chief Hid $161,609

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators sought to learn more today about an unexplained $161,609 which former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan failed to show on his income tax returns between 1945 and 1950.

Today's first witness was Thomas Sullivan, Chicago attorney, summoned to answer questions about $24,985 worth of stock paid to Nunan as a legal fee in 1948.

Nunan's six-figure financial affairs were under inquiry by a House ways and means subcommittee investigating charges of corruption and irregularities in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Akron Man Indicted For Tax Evasion

CLEVELAND (AP) — Inner tube manufacturer Poncet Davis of Akron, close friend of a former top U. S. tax official, is accused of cheating the government out of $738,249 in personal income taxes.

A federal grand jury, in the biggest criminal tax fraud case ever handled here, charged Davis Wednesday with evading that amount from 1945 through 1948.

The 53-year-old president and chief owner of the Robbins Tire & Rubber Co., Inc., of Tuscumbia, Ala., which grossed up to $1,000,000 on war orders, is a friend of oil man Edwin W. Pauley and Charles Oliphant.

Pauley, high ranking California Democrat and friend of President Truman, was associated with Davis in the Pacific Rubber Co. in 1947. Davis and Pauley once jointly owned an island off the coast of Hawaii.

Oliphant is a former chief counsel of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, who resigned under pressure. He told Senate tax scandal investigators last December that Davis was his "dear friend" and described rides he had taken to Florida in Davis' private plane.

Davis, however, has stated that he never discussed his tax matters with Oliphant.

"It's the first I've heard of it (the grand jury charge)," Davis told a reporter on the telephone at his home in Akron's fashionable West Hill. "Of course, I deny it."

He already is under $5,000 bond, posted when he was charged in January with tax evasions of $170,000. That covered only 1945.

Conviction in this type of case means a maximum of 20 years in prison, five years for each year, plus interest and fines.

2 eggs, well beaten
Fine dry bread crumbs

Prepare rice as directed on package. Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and stir until blended. Then add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper and cayenne; cook and stir over low heat until very thick. Add cheese, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and onion. Blend well. Then add rice and mix thoroughly. Chill.

Shape chilled mixture into 1-inch balls, using about 1½ teaspoons mixture for each ball. Add milk to eggs; blend. Dip each ball in egg and milk mixture; then roll in bread crumbs. Fry in hot shallow fat until golden brown on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 85 balls.

the funds to administer the steel properties.

Senator Ferguson last week proposed an amendment to the pending appropriations bill, prohibiting the use of any of the funds appropriated from being used to enforce the President's order seizing the steel plants. Ferguson explained that under the rules of the Senate there could not be a blanket prohibition on all funds to be appropriated or already appropriated.

MR. COUDERT'S bill would throw the prohibition of Congress over all funds "heretofore or hereafter appropriated."

In both cases the purpose is simply to establish by affirmative vote of Congress a protest against the President's action. We can feel reasonably certain that no such law or resolution would pass. Long discussion would develop, and talkative members like Morse and Humphrey would filibuster.

Also, if Congress should pass such a prohibition, the President would ignore it and by some subterfuge use money for his purpose.

A united Republican front on this, however, would be sufficient to put the party on record. The Republicans should not let this pass without some affirmative action.

North, South Tourney Enters Quarter Finals

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Today's North and South amateur golf tournament quarter-final round has a virtual parade of champions. Four of the eight survivors of Wednesday's two rounds had accounted for six of the 51 previous titles.

They are veteran New Yorker Frank Strafaci from Flushing, Long Island, 1938 and 1939 champion; Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., with victories in 1946 and 1949; the Savannah, Ga., long ball hitter, Hobart Manley, the defending champion, and Mal Gallette, St. Albans, N. Y., 1944 titlist. Stranahan Tuesday defeated William Hynman III of Philadelphia, three and two, and Arthur Ruffin of Wilson, N. C., one-up.

Truman Drops Plan To Shift Flood Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman has dropped his controversial plan to put the Interior Department in charge of flood control and other river and harbor work now handled by the Army Engineers.

Irving Perlmeter assistant White House press secretary, Wednesday told newsmen the President has instructed the budget bureau to stop work on the plan and that "it will not be submitted" to Congress.

No explanation was given for the shift in plans. Contributing factors are believed to have been the bitter congressional opposition to the reorganization proposal and a conference with Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of Army Engineers following the current Missouri flood.

Word of the proposed reorganization got out April 14. Interior Department officials said they expected Truman to submit his plan to Congress in a week or ten days Pentagon officials said they had heard of it, too.

There was immediate opposition in Congress where Army Engineers have strong support among certain legislators. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) even suggested that the plan be reversed. He said the Army should get Interior's engineering functions.

The two departments have been feuding for years over control of flood control projects and similar work.

Propose New Incentive Pay For Air Force

Volunteers Falling Off; Flying Losing Glamor, Brass Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The glamor of combat flying has worn so thin in two wars that some top military people believe a new system of "incentive pay" is the only sure way to attract more youths into America's growing Air Force.

Such a pay-proposal is knocking around the Air Force's top command. It is expected to emerge soon as a specific plan to be laid before Congress.

It is certain to run into trouble there.

Sponsors of a proposal to give combat pay to frontline fighters and others actually under enemy fire have been sharply critical of the special hazard and incentive pay that now goes to Air Force and Navy flying crews, submarine crews and Army parachutists.

The combat pay bill—calling for an extra $45 a month for most Korean war veterans—was snagged today in a Senate-House conference committee trying to agree on differences in bills passed by the two bodies.

The subject of hazard and incentive pay is under study not only by the Pentagon, but by a special Senate "task force" headed by Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo).

The Air Force was the "glamor boy" of the armed services in World War II. But today the Air Force admits the glamor appeal is not enough. There is a serious shortage of pilots, navigators, bombardiers and other qualified flying personnel.

At the moment, airmen say, it appears the cadet training class starting in May will be roughly 50 per cent under the estimated needs.

Surplus On Ground

On the other hand, there is a surplus of college-trained men for ground duty.

One Air Force officer explained the situation to a reporter this way:

"The glamor of flying is almost gone now. World War II and the Korean war have shown that combat flying is hard, tough, dangerous work.

"We are going to have to pay for the incentive to drive those planes — and that will be far cheaper in he long run than anything else we can do."

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market declined fractions to more than 2 points today as the downward movement entered its third successive session.

The market offered resistance through most of the first hour, but soon thereafter, selling began to pick up momentum with the high-speed ticker falling behind actual floor transactions. The lag continued for 13 minutes.

Wall Street bearishness was enhanced by the overnight news that the government was authorizing steel price increases averaging nearly $3 a ton. Steel leaders asserted this rise would fall far short of meeting the estimated cost of the forthcoming wage boosts.

Among today's big losers were Amerada Petroleum off 7, American Cyanamid off 2⅛; Texas Pacific Land Trust off 1½; Standard Oil of New Jersey off 1⅜; Chrysler off 1⅛; Kern County Land off 1¼; Socony-Vacuum off 1.

Southern Pacific led the rails downward with a loss of 1½ points. Union Pacific was off 1 and Northern Pacific dropped ⅝.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones industrial average was off 84 cents; the rails were down 20 cents; and the utilities were unchanged.

against Mayor Thomas B. Wright and Charles Stecker, city safety-service director. City Council passed a Daylight Savings Time ordinance last Tuesday. It would becomd effective Sunday at 2 a.m.

The Mossers, who own a drive-in at Mansfield as well as at Fremont, said fast time violates state and national general law and said the emergency clause tacked onto the ordinance was not in order.

Judge Leland R. Rutherford of Morrow County, sitting by assignment in Mansfield, will hear the petition argued tomorrow at 11 a.m.

The idea, say the Mossers, is that under fast time it will not get dark enough early enough to attract outdoor theater customers who like their sleep.

TOO MUCH EXCITEMENT

SOLVAY, N. Y. (UP)—An exciting television program was too much for seven-year-old Elaine Szcacek, 7. She wound up in the hospital with an arm injury after she had toppled off a chair while watching the program.

SERIOUS MOMENT IN CLOWN'S LIFE. Top circus clown Emmett Kelly considers his annual visit to New York's Bellevue Hospital something of a command performance. For many years the famous laugh-maker of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus has taken time oft to entertain the little shut-ins. Above he makes Helen Jackson forget her illness.

Claridon School Breakin Reported

The value of food and tools stolen in a breakin at Claridon School Wednesday night was $170, the sheriff's office reported today.

A few light bulbs were broken and the lock which separates the old building from the new section was twisted off. The thieves apparently entered the school through an unlocked window in the girls shower room.

Tracks indicate two or three persons were involved in the breakin which occurred sometime between 7 p.m. Wednesday night and 7:30 a.m. Thursday morning. No arrests had been made by noon Thursday. Investigation by the sheriff's office is continuing.

Latest Expected To Fizzle Out

Impeachment Moves Are Rarely Successful

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Truman threw fuel on the political fire by seizing the steel industry, the heat was so intense you could have predicted there'd be cries for his impeachment.

Sen. Taft suggested it pretty promptly. But impeachment must start in the House, not in the Senate. So this week two House Republicans—Hale of Maine and Bender of Ohio—proposed it.

That's as far as the suggestion is expected to get. Besides, it's the kind of move which in an election year might backfire on the Republicans by creating sympathy for the President.

With this in mind, some Republicans said late yesterday: "We don't want to make a martyr of the President."

Anyway, impeachment is easier said than done. The only time Congress tried it on a President—Andrew Johnson, in 1868—the trial lasted three months. Johnson escaped by one vote and lived out the rest of his term peacefully.

The Constitution says the "President, vice president, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors. . . ."

Proposal Made In House

This is the way it goes. The proposal is made in the House. If the House approves—by a simple majority vote—the Senate is notified. Then the House appoints a committee of managers (prosecutors) to present the case.

The Senate sits as a jury to hear the evidence. When a President is on trial—because the vice president might have an interest in the outcome—the Chief Justice of the U.S. presides.

But since such a trial drags on, it's hard to keep the senators glued to their chairs. They get up, wander around, duck in and out, thus missing a lot of the testimony.

Having missed testimony, some of them are reluctant to vote when it comes time for the Senate to decide guilty or not guilty. And the President is acquitted unless two-thirds of the senators vote against him.

Andrew Johnson, a Democrat who was elected vice president on Lincoln's Republican ticket in 1864, succeeded to the presidency when Lincoln was assassinated the following year.

Shared Lincoln's Views

Johnson shared Lincoln's moderate views on reconstructing the South after the war. But he had to deal with a Republican Congress which wanted much harsher treatment for the ex-Confederates.

He became so troublesome to the Republicans that in 1867 they passed the tenure of office act. This was to prohibit him from firing—unless the Senate approved—and of the people the President had appointed to government jobs.

He wanted to fire his secretary of war, Edwin M. Stanton, who had been playing cozy with Johnson's enemies. Besides, Johnson thought it would be a good way to test the tenure of office act.

He thought he'd fire Stanton and the case would go to the Supreme Court for a decision on whether the tenure of office was an encroachment on presidential authority and therefore unconstitutional. So he bounced his secretary of war.

But the House Republicans crossed him up by starting impeachment proceedings against him. After his acquittal, Congress repealed the tenure of office act.

Altogether impeachment proceedings have been started in Congress against 12 people. Besides Johnson, they were a senator, a secretary of war, and nine judges. Most were acquitted.

Mrs. Frew New President Of League Of Women Voters

MRS. JAMES F. FREW

Mrs. James F. Frew was elected president of the Marion League of Women Voters at the second annual meeting Saturday.

Elected to serve with her were Mrs. Walter F. Hane, first vice president; Mrs. Francis Wanoa, second vice president; Mrs. Paul Wolf, secretary, and Mrs. Vesta Williams, treasurer.

Mrs. William C. [illegible], Mrs. Lester J. Dukes, Mrs. B. N. Sa[illegible]man, Mrs. Karl Schell, Mrs. J. M[illegible] Seltz and Mrs. Norman Winslow were elected to the board of directors while Mrs. Robert Fay, retiring president, Mrs. Thomas Stanton and Mrs. W. G. Wheeler were named to serve on the nominating committee.

Mrs. John Cartright presented the board's recommendation that the local league's study of city and county government be published. A study of the needs for and problems of public kindergartens in Marion was the recommendation presented by Mrs. Emery Anderson. Both items were accepted by the league to be on next year's agenda.

Mrs. Fay welcomed the guests and presided at the business meeting.

Rossford Woman Talks

Mrs. Norman Winslow, general chairman of the annual meeting, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Nelson Morris of Rossford, Ohio. Mrs. Morris talked about "The Role of the League of Women Voters in American Democracy." She outlined briefly the advancement of the legal status of women in the United States from 1800 to 1919, and the formation of the League in 1920. In the early years the League was primarily concerned with the problems of the working woman, child labor, and public health. The league first became concerned with efficiency in government in 1925 and in that same year began a study of the business cycle.

"We believe that democracy depends upon a well-informed citizenry," Mrs. Morris said, and went on to explain that action in the League can be taken through one or more of three steps, 1. inform the membership, 2. inform the community, 3. support legislation. The third step is never undertaken unless more than 70 per cent of the members vote to do so. In closing, Mrs. Morris listed what she thought were the four main values of the League of Women Voters to American democracy. It is valuable as a social historian and as such is the only women's organization represented in the Congressional Library [illegible]. It is also valuable in teaching citizens to make decisions, in teaching democratic procedure, and in interesting citizens in participating in government.

Unique Pressure Group

During a question period, Mrs. Morris said, "We are a pressure group in the public interest, and in that we are unique."

The committee for the annual meeting included Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Karl Schell, Mrs. Clauer, Mrs. Carl Sanders, Mrs. Patrick Finan, Mrs. Donald Garrod, Mrs. Wanda, Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Dan G. Hale, Mrs. Jack Davis and Mrs. Harold Fetter.

More than 60 members and guests of the League attended the luncheon meeting in the dining room of the First Presbyterian Church. The red, white and blue carnations, snapdragons and iris centering the speaker's table were repeated throughout the room.

Farmer Friends Help Injured Man In Crawford Co.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS — Richard Fauser, farmer residing south of Bucyrus in Whetstone Township, today had one less worry facing him.

Confined to his home with a back injury, Fauser had been fearing he wouldn't get his land plowed and his crops planted. His neighbors heard of his problem and 16 of them brought 10 tractors to his farm over the weekend. They plowed and sowed 20 acres in oats and plowed another 45 acres for later planting.

The good neighbor group included Kenneth Beach, Ralph Sickmiller, Charles Coulter, Bud Thatcher, Milford Fauser, Harley Johnson, Layton Wingert, Robert Hart, Archie Wingert, Maurice Patterson and sons Carl and Raymond, Leo and Lavern Carr, Milton and Richard Hord.

Ridgway New Target of Red Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen Matthew B Ridgway already is succeeding Gen Dwight D Eisenhower in one respect: He's the new prime target of Russian propaganda

Gen Ridgway, commander of United Nations forces in Korea has been mentioned along with Gen Alfred Gruenther as a possible successor to Gen Eisenhower as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe

Eisenhower has long been a favorite target of the Moscow radio but latest blasts have centered on Ridgway

Among other things, the Moscow radio says Ridgway last year alone looted seven million dollars from Japan, where he served as occupation commander

U S government monitors reported today a broadcast from Moscow to Germany which said

"It was he (Ridgway) who said that United Nations troops should destroy as many Koreans and Chinese as possible On his orders U S troops are committing monstrous atrocities on Korean soil murdering hundreds of thousands of peaceful inhabitants and destroying towns and villages

"Ridgeway applying scorched earth tactics in Korea Under Gen Ridgway's command U S forces have started germ warfare against the Korean and Chinese peoples U S aircraft are dropping insects infected with deadly germs on peaceful Korean and Chinese towns and villages

"Ridgway also has a personal interest in war He has acquired great wealth, thanks to the aggression in Korea According to Tokyo reports, last year alone he paid seven million dollars into his account with a New York bank

Recession Prediction Refuted

Businessmen Differ On Outlook For Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A leading industrialist has come right out and said it:

"A recession is now the best guess."

William B. Given Jr., chairman of American Brake Shoe, tells stockholders at the annual meeting that their company's management expects a business recession and is getting ready for it.

Given says it's only a guess, but it's better to be safe than sorry. His company makes castings and metal products for railroads, auto and farm machinery and other industries.

Businessmen are far from unanimously behind Given in his guess. And several are telling shareholders that better days are ahead this fall.

But now that's it out in the open, perhaps others will also admit they are trying to put their firm's house in order against the slump so many fear.

A GREAT MANY COMPANIES have been doing just what American Brake Shoe is: cutting inventories, trimming costs, holding down on production.

This caution has been widespread in industry—and such caution has been regarded by many as one of the best forms of insurance against a major slump. It is when caution is forgotten in a wild boom, that a little set-back can snowball into a major depression. There's no such wild boom now as preceded the 1929 crash.

But Given is among the first to put a time-table on his prediction of a recession now on its way.

Merchants, who have been showing caution for some time now, find a friend today. Retailers have been buying for only a short period ahead as they try to hold inventories down. Manufacturers naturally don't like this and have been calling it shortsighted. But William Burston, manager of the merchandising division of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, tells the knitted fabrics institute meeting here that the merchant's first responsibility is to the consumer, and the retailer should not be asked to act as a warehouse for large stocks of goods just to keep mills humming.

RETAIL BUSINESS should be better in the coming months, stockholders of Arnold Constable are told by their president, Isaac Liberman. He thinks now that prices are lower, consumers will be back in the stores.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of Continental Can, is optimistic for the second half of the year, too. He tells stockholders that any loss of sales volume at present will be more than offset by gains this fall.

If general conditions remain reasonably good, American Smelting & Refining should have a good year, chairman Roger W. Straus tells shareholders. But he thinks that costs will continue to rise while metal prices will tend to be lower.

At least one economist is more reassuring than the head of American Brake Shoe. Dr. Marcus Nadler of New York University tells the National Notion Association meeting here that the country is in the midst of a business boom that should continue for another 12 months.

PUTS UP DOGGED RESISTANCE. It looks as though pint-sized cowboy Gary Crowe, 3, would have to resort to spurs if he expects his pet St. Bernard to perform a few tricks. Gary was all set to put on a special stunt in the children's parade that is part of the Las Vegas, Nev., Maytime Helldorado Week. But the giant pooch staged a sitdown strike.

Fightingest Family Has Proud Record

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Hatfields and McCoys may have been rugged mountain boys but this city can boast of a real fighting family too, although their fighting is channeled along patriotic lines.

The Japanese started it. Charlie Deal enlisted in the Navy the day after Pearl Harbor was bombed. One week later, his brother George Jr., joined the Air Force.

In 1944, their sister, Mrs. Rosemary Deal Scholtz, enlisted in the Woman's Army Corps. Two years later Joseph enlisted in the Navy and the youngest brother, Paul, entered the Army in 1950.

George, the airman, was wounded and transferred to the Engineers after receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross for action over Guadalcanal. Later he joined the Rangers and took part in the liberation of American prisoners from the enemy-held island of San Tomas. He received the Silver Star.

Brother Charlie participated in the great sea battles of Leyte Gulf, Surigao Strait and the Eastern Philippines Sea He earned eight battle stars.

The mother of the family has received a second Purple Heart medal. It was awarded to the youngest of the Deal family Paul was hit in Korea last January and is now in a hospital He was wounded just five days before his brother George arrived as a replacement, thus keeping the name of Deal among the list of American fighting men.

After 10 years of worry, Mrs Deal said "Let's hope this is over soon."

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

'Quite ready,' Katharine told my father steadily and Dicky came swiftly to he feet crossed to my side and held out his hand to me bringing me to my feet beside him

"Here's where we bow out" he said with decision You don't need or want an audience'

With his hand beneath my elbow he steered me toward the door leading toward the corridor

'We'll close this door, and go down to my room" he said, with his hand on the knob 'We'll leave that door open so we can keep an eye—or rather, four ears—on Lillian So long friends! And good hunting!'

He shut the door softly but swiftly and piloted me down the corridor to his own room We spoke no word and heard no sound from the living room Patently Dicky's swift action had saved my father the trouble of "easing us out" from his interview with Katharine

Outside Lillian's door we both halted and listened intently but not even the ghost of a sound came through the door and we went on into Dicky's room where leaving the door open, he hastily arranged chairs side by side and facing the corridor through which we could see the closed door of Ruth's room in which Lillian lay asleep under the influence of a sedative

There!' my husband said in muted tones when he had seated me and stretched himself out lazily in a chair beside me I guess that makes the world safe for democracy and from eavesdropper Got any little tidbits of gossip you didn't spill to the pater '

"Nothing about Marion or Lillian" I told him I scraped the platter clean for Father

"Yes scraped' is a more refined word, Dicky commented with dancing eyes then spoke with decision though keeping his voice lowered

"Dad is right" he said 'I think your worries are over as far as the romance of Marion and Ronald is concerned Carlotta Carroll will attend to the mechanics of getting Ronald and Marion together you have an almost sure-proof bait to dangle before Ronald and you have reduced Marion to reason, with the assurance that she won't spill any apples from the pan where her mother is concerned'

"I know" I admitted then added, a bit dolorously, 'But—there's Lillian"

"Yes but she's been deflated a lot and—you have an imposing roster of assistants in handling her I think you can rest easily as far as Lil is concerned What about the other inmates of your nursing home — Katrina, and Bess Conway?'

I'll brief you about Katharine first' I said, and told him of the difficulty I had had in getting my kinswoman to listen to and acquiesce in my father's plan for getting Jack interested in Young Peter and the story of the baby's hapless father before he should suspect Katharine's determination to adopt the child even if it meant destroying their marriage

A good job' Dicky commented when I had finished, and Dad will finish pounding the staples in where they'll do the most good You certainly have had your hands full with the obsessions of those two dames I don't know which is the worser—you may have that word, my sweet—Lil's or Katrina's Thank God you don't have a single neurosis How about Bess Conway?

Little Journeys

Want Somewhere To Go?

Motorists are always looking for places to visit in spring and summer. Here is one of a series of brief articles on such places not far from Marion.

By EMORY ANDERSON

Fort Morrow — South of Waldo

The war of 1812 marked the beginning of Marion County as political subdivision for the war marked the end of Indian supremacy in this area.

When news that war had been declared reached the residents of Waldo Township, which was then a part of Delaware County, it had about the same effect as an electric shock.

North of the Greenville Treaty line, which followed the western and northern limits of Waldo Township and the northern limits of Richland Township, was hostile territory.

THE TWO AREAS were an alien and as much enemies as France and Germany in 1939. The residents were immediately alarmed and set about making preparations to defend themselves.

They knew all too well of the brutality of the Indians in war and remembered the defeat of Crawford's army and the killing of Col. Crawford a few miles to the north in what is now Wyandot County.

SOME OF THE PEOPLE left in great haste. There is one story about a two-year-old boy falling from a wagon as his parents raced to the comparative safety of Worthington. When the parents arrived they found the boy missing. Historians fail to tell the story of how he was found, but he was and lived to be 80 years old in Delaware County.

There were only a few families living in Waldo Township at the time and they hastened to Wyatt's tavern on the old military highway for safety. There they hastily built a stockade, covering about one acre, around the tavern. The tavern was two stories high and built of brick. The old fort had two block houses which had their upper floors project in the conventional block house manner. The whole was enclosed with a picket fence made of timbers six inches thick and six feet high.

THE LOCAL residents went to the fort when danger threatened and alarms were sounded nearly every day. Work had to be carried on with a musket nearby and in constant danger from a painted red man who might appear out of the thickets without a sound.

Past the fort marched the armies and brigades headed for the Lake Erie region and battle. Gen. William Henry Harrison moved his army past Fort Morrow and wrote letters to the Congress telling of the impossibility of moving his army through unmarked wilderness, sticky swamps and wide rivers. His headquarters were at Delaware for a time and it was there he wrote to Congress suggesting that the United States try to wrest control of Lake Erie from the British as the key to success. Perry's victory on Lake Erie near Sandusky was the result of the strategy. Harrison knew of the difficulties of moving men in force through virgin forest.

NO BATTLES WERE fought at Ft. Morrow. After the war the stockade fell into disrepair and was finally removed and the inn continued to be operated until 1840. Today nothing of the fort or the inn remains. Even the road they guarded has since been abandoned and except for a noticeable roadbed, nothing of it has survived the past 110 years.

All that remains is the Wyatt graveyard which is located on a small knoll overlooking the Olentangy River just north of the fort. In that burial grounds lie the remains of the Brundages, the Wyatts, and many other early settlers of Waldo Township. A double row of graves lie marked simply, "Unknown, U.S. Soldier, War of 1812." The cemetery was started about 1808 shortly before Wyatt's tavern was built and is the oldest burial grounds in Marion County. The cemetery is about one acre in extent.

TO REACH THE cemetery and the burial grounds, drive south from Waldo on U.S. Route 23 for a distance of one mile. The cemetery lies east of the road and can be reached by driving through a sheep pasture after driving through a farmer's yard. There is nothing to mark the site of the fort. It was built on the north slope of a small ravine which borders the south edge of the cemetery. The whole area is inside the Delaware dam area.

Time has passed the fort and tavern and cemetery by. Wild spring flowers are blooming on some of the graves as they have probably done for more than 100 years. The road is no longer a military highway as such and passes some distance to the west.

Except for a few weathered and lichen covered tombstones, nothing remains to remind us of the armies inching north to grip with the enemy, and the people who lived in danger and died young. Our struggles today lie on a different field, but they are no more dangerous and no more a struggle.

More snow falls in small cleared lows, according to a University of California scientist who has made a long study of snow.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The British Argue Commercialism

PERIODICALLY the British get greatly exercised over the possibilities of commercial television Right now the British press especially 'The Times' has been filled with letters expostulating over the evils of commercialism Whenever the British think of really evil commercialism they talk about that terrible place America with its singing commercials and its noisy claims The British letter-writer one of the most literate and opinionated persons on earth, writes wonderful letters which are magnificently insulting

Writes one man who signs himself your obedient servant Brabazon of Tara (20 Berkeley Square) 'What has been particularly confusing is the way in which various correspondents have referred to American commercial broadcasting and have assumed that if broadcasting in this country is removed from the restrictions of monopoly control, the programs will immediately become indistinguishable from those of the American pattern This is entirely unwarrantable and is again strangely contemptuous of the common sense of the British people That sentence which is rather typical of all the correspondence, is strangely contemptuous of us Americans and wonderfully British in its assumption that the English would not repeat any of our errors in commercial broadcasting

BRABAZON OF TARA is an especially interesting optimist because he entirely disapproves of the theory that the bad will inevitably drive out the good It is demonstrably untrue he says The rise to popularity of ballet, the large demand for serious books the considerable circulation of literary periodicals the crowded audiences for good music and the continuing popularity of classical drama all testify most reassuringly to the overall level of public taste

This is a shrewd observation Also, it applies to this country as forcefully as to Great Britain But no one ever makes it here The millions of concert-goers in this country, the staggering number of persons who attend lectures and go to art exhibits are totally ignored by the broadcaster The theory is that these culture-hungry people are a minority which can be safely ignored Actually they are a mass audience which has never been catered to It takes the special and rather refreshing arrogance of the British to call attention to it

THE PROLONGED debate in Britain is likely to continue for some time because our English cousins have discovered what we always knew, namely, that television is a very expensive toy The British radio, a government monopoly is paid for by a tax on radio sets Television is paid for by the same system But television's costs are so much greater that it has not provided anything like satisfactory service to the British people Hence the argument which was excited by the Beveridge Report A committee headed by Lord Beveridge studied the question of commercial radio and television at great length and recommended a continuance of the present government monopoly

In general the British people who loathe change approve a typical opinion on the subject is that of Viscount Hailsham who starts out by stating the case for the opposition and then demolishing his own arguments 'Newspapers are privately owned Why not broadcasting Commercial broadcasting has proved from the start a practicable proposition in America why should it not be equally successful here And more plausibly still both Canada and Australia have public systems of public and privately sponsored networks Why not seek to serve both God and Mamon equally in Britain?'

Tasty Lunch for Mother's Day

OATMEAL PUFFS . . . Easy to make.

CREAMED HAM . . . Completes the picture.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If the teen-age daughters in your neighborhood want to invite their Moms to a luncheon in honor of Mother's Day (May 11), you might help them out with a main-course recipe. Here's one that's new and glamorous enough for the occasion—Oatmeal Puffs with Ham Filling. The rolled oats in these puffs act as a binder and help to prevent the flour and shortening from separating in the initial cooking. That first cooking is an important step in the preparation of the puffs, so young cooks will want to time the cooking process and follow the recipe directions to the letter.

OATMEAL PUFFS

Ingredients: 1 cup hot water, ½ cup shortening, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup quick rolled oats (uncooked) ½ cup sifted flour, 3 eggs.

Method: In heavy saucepan put hot water, shortening and salt, heat to boiling. Quickly stir in rolled oats and flour. Stir vigorously over low heat for 1½ to 2 minutes or until mixture can be formed into a ball in center of pan. Turn into bowl and add eggs, one at a time, beating vigorously after each addition; beat for 1 minute after last egg has been well combined. Drop in 8 portions on ungreased baking sheet, leaving at least 2 inches between each portion. Bake in very hot (450° F.) oven 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350° F) and bake 15 to 20 minutes longer or until browned. Cut off tops, fill with Creamed Ham, then replace tops.

CREAMED HAM

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 cups milk, 2 cups cooked diced ham, 1 cup drained cooked peas, ¼ cup sliced pimiento, ½ cup thin strips green pepper (if desired).

Method: Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, salt, mustard and milk. Add ham, peas, pimiento, and (if used) the green pepper. Cook slowly 10 minutes longer, stirring often. Use as filling for Oatmeal Puffs.
